Cuba Talks Delayed
By Raid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cuban exiles in the United States are worried about the effects a reported rebel raid on Cuba may have on current negotiations for release of Cuban invasion prisoners.

The negotiations were reported Wednesday to have hit a snag. The talks, between Cuban Premier Castro and New York lawyer James Donovan, representing relatives of the prisoners, were to have ended Wednesday night, but further meetings will be needed to straighten out certain unspecified terms.

A communique in Miami from an exile group calling itself Alpha 66 said raiders attacked a camp of Cuban militiamen and Russian military men on Cuba's north shore shortly after midnight Monday and stayed ashore for nearly two hours.

"In the railroad yards of the city," the communique said, "a warehouse of military supplies and four other strategic points were destroyed, many weapons and some flags of the enemy were captured. No fewer than 20 enemy were killed." A spokesman for Alpha 66 said some of the slain were Russians but did not say how many.

The spokesman said 15 to 25 men were in the attacking force that some were wounded, but that all got away.

In San Juan, Puerto Rico, Antonio Veciana, another spokesman for Alpha 66, said the "war trophies" would be exhibited in San Juan's baseball stadium Saturday.

Alpha-66 staged its first raid Sept. 10 with a night attack on a British freighter and two Cuban cargo vessels anchored off Cuba's northern coast.

In a broadcast from San Juan, Veciana said Alpha 66 is declaring war on all ships carrying supplies to Cuba. He told the American Broadcasting Company attacks would be made on all vessels, not just those from Iron Curtain countries.

Veciana also said Alpha 66 plans three more raids on Cuba before the end of October.

Ransom
Payments
Scored

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sharp opposition developed in Congress today to any plan for the U.S. government to pay part of the ransom demanded by Fidel Castro for Cuban invasion prisoners.

Congressional sources said they understood that the United States was prepared to put up "lots of money" to help free the more than 1,000 Cubans captured in the abortive invasion last year.

These sources gave no estimate on exactly how much federal money might be used. Castro is demanding about $62 million for release of the prisoners.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., urged President Kennedy Wednesday to deny reports that federal funds would be involved. The state department and White House declined comment.

Rep. A. S. Herlong, D-Fla., wired the president that a taxpayer's ransom would be "repugnant" to our traditions.

British Shipowners
Buck Cuba Sanctions

LONDON (UPI)—British shipowners decided unanimously today to oppose any restrictions on their trade with Cuba.

The council of shipping, which represents shipowners, met here to discuss reports that the United States government was planning new measures to penalize ships carrying Communist goods to Cuba.

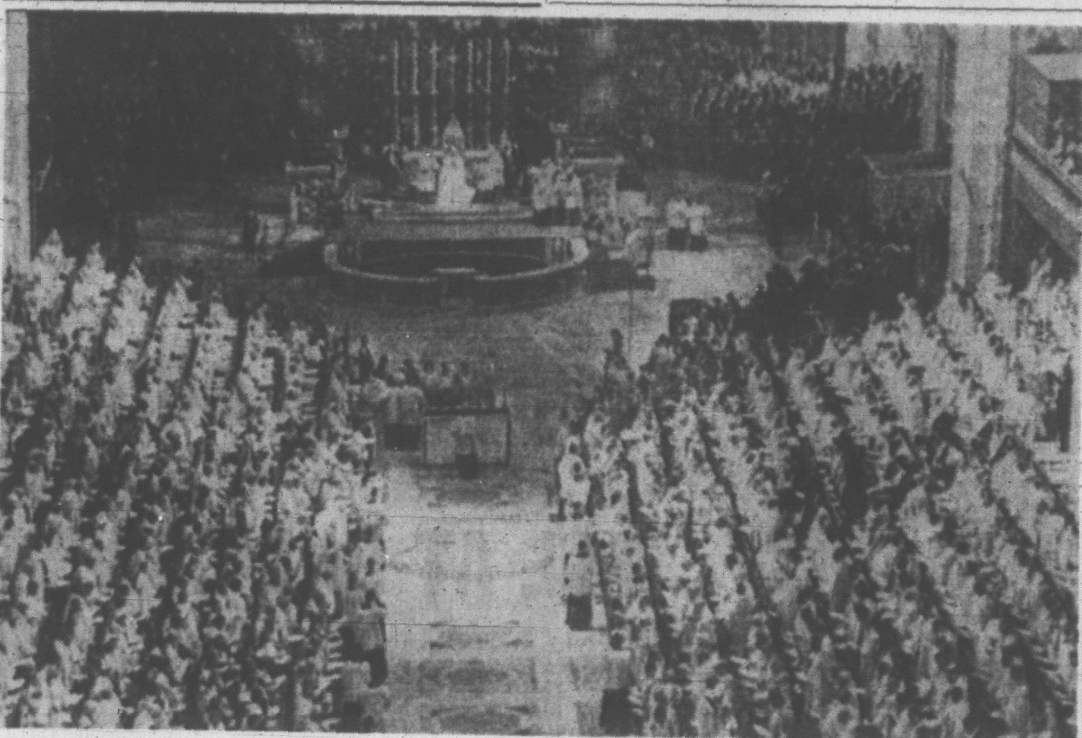

A statement issued by the council said: "It is a matter of grave concern to owners engaged in trade that they could be involved in sanctions."

The shipowners pointed out that some of their ships were engaged in long-term charter

TOULON, France (Reuters)—More than 3,000 gendarmes and riot police were deployed in a massive security effort here today as President de Gaulle flew aboard the French aircraft carrier Clemenceau to watch naval manoeuvres in the Mediterranean near here.

De Gaulle—who has escaped unscathed from attempts on his life—landed on the 30,000-ton Clemenceau in a helicopter from Toulon.

Anglican Archbishop
Raises Touchy Issue

LONDON (AP)—The Archbishop of Canterbury expressed hope today that the Roman Catholic Church, at the Vatican ecumenical council, will take a fresh look at some of its policies, which he said offend other Christians.

The archbishop, Dr. Michael Ramsey, said in an interview in the weekly Catholic Herald: "A good example of this is the question of mixed marriages, where some of the procedures and demands are very painful to Anglicans."

"I am thinking, of course, of the invitation to the future husband or wife to abandon their Anglican faith, and the insistence that the children of the marriage must be brought up as Roman Catholics."

"Another thing that hurts us very much is the principle that converts to the Roman Church should be baptized again, albeit conditionally, as this is a reflection on Anglican baptism—which in fact, you recognize in theory."

The interview, with Catholic Herald assistant editor Hugh Kay, was the first ever given by a head of the Anglican Church to a Roman Catholic publication. The Herald is edited for Catholics by members of their own faith, but is not an official organ of the church.

Kay asked: "Could we not do more together in the way of joint social action, and joint public approaches to moral questions?"

"I think we most certainly could," Dr. Ramsey replied. "I would envisage consultations between Anglicans, Roman Catholics and the free churches in various localities to thresh out joint statements on what needs to be said imperatively in such matters. This would be very suitable at times when big national questions come up."

John D. Pessimistic
On Problem of 'Sons'

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker expressed pessimism today about prospects for a final settlement of the problem created by the radical Sons of Freedom Sect of Doukhobors.

In reply to a Commons question by NDP House Leader H. W. Herridge, Mr. Diefenbaker said that so far as any part of the Freedomite problem is a federal responsibility, the government would give every consideration to bringing about a settlement.

But he added that "on the basis of the experience of years, one might express the hope without much hope."

Mr. Herridge referred to a proposal Wednesday in the Senate by Senator David Croll (L.-Ontario) that a 20-member Senate committee be set up to study the Freedomite problem. (See Page 5.)

MONACO MUST MAKE TAX DEAL WITH FRANCE

No Lights, Water for Grace?

MONTE CARLO (UPI)—The tiny principality of Monaco has until midnight to make a new tax deal with French President Charles de Gaulle or face the prospect of being swallowed up by France.

Monaco is known the world over for its Princess Grace, its gambling casino, its sunny climate and its lack of income taxes.

SHE DIDN'T BELIEVE
HIM

STOCKPORT, England (AP)—School teacher Margaret Hunter—whose driving instructor fled crying "this is suicide"—set out at the wheel again Wednesday to prove him wrong.

A few minutes later the 65-year-old woman scrambled from the wreck of her small auto and explained: "It was most unfortunate. I was just driving into the main road when I saw this truck bearing down on me. There was a terrific crash."

The instructor abandoned her in mid-lesson Tuesday expressing fear for his life and complaining that Miss Hunter paid no attention to his instruction.

NO DEAL?

Bennett
Shrugs Off
Columbia

By FRANK RUTTER

Premier Bennett returned today from talks with New York financiers and exhibited an astonishing lack of interest in the Columbia River power project.

His attitude appeared to be a complete change of policy—and some observers fear it is an indication that the financial deal he was planning for the Columbia has collapsed.

He said he is not concerned how Columbia power is sold to the United States as long as the money pays for construction of dams and generators to produce "free power" in B.C.

He said he did not discuss the Columbia at all on his week-long New York visit.

He seemed more interested in the Peace River project.

WANTED BOTH

Up to now he has consistently demanded simultaneous development of both projects.

Technical experts on the Columbia from B.C. Hydro were away "somewhere" at the same time as Mr. Bennett. But the premier disclaimed any connection with their negotiations with U.S. power officials.

He told a press conference he and deputy finance minister G. S. Bryson went to New York for a "survey" of the money market.

"I didn't ask for any money," he said.

He found the market "extremely favorable" and said he could raise financing for the Peace project there if he wanted to, but would also sound out markets in Toronto and Montreal.

DEFENDED ECONOMY

Mr. Bennett couched his remarks with a detailed defence of B.C.'s economy.

He said there is no austerity in this province, and cited a long list of highway projects and ferry plans to support his claim.

The premier had been believed seeking two things on his U.S. trip: an agreement to purchase downstream benefits from the Columbia project for a price equal to 5 mills per kilowatt-hour.

'He Never Knew
What Hit Him'

By DESMOND BILL

Ronald G. Wilson "never knew what hit him" when a car with headlights glaring "drove straight into him" at about 11.30 Wednesday night on Douglas Street near Larch.

The northbound car did not stop. It accelerated and turned east on Talmie Avenue.

But within hours police arrested Robert J. Brotherton, 1577 McRae Avenue, an ex-provincial policeman, and charged him with impaired driving in connection with the fatality.

The accused man was remanded without plea until Monday, when he appeared in police court today. A new charge may be laid against him at that time.

NEVER STIRRED

The car hit Mr. Wilson, who lived at 588 Starling Lane off the Old West Road, with "tremendous impact," according to Russell Jeffs, 1875 St. Ann St., a friend of the dead man who had a narrow escape in the accident. "He never stirred once after he fell on the road."

The two men had just left Paul's Crown House at 3075 Douglas and were standing in the road about to get into their cars, parked one behind the other, when the accident occurred.

Said Mr. Jeffs: "I said goodnight to him. He was putting the key in his car door when I sensed this car coming at us."

"I looked back and saw the headlights. It seemed to be driving straight into us."

"It grazed me and drove straight into him. He never knew what hit him."

DEAD ON ARRIVAL

Mr. Wilson was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital in a police vehicle. He was pronounced dead on arrival.

The two men had met earlier in the evening at 89 Kinsmen Air Cadet Squadron where Mr. Wilson had been a civilian instructor for four years.

They were on their way home and had stopped for coffee and a talk over old times. Both served in the RAF.

Mr. Wilson, 45, was born in Dunfermline, Scotland, and served 12 years in the RAF, retiring in 1946 with the rank of squadron leader. He came to Canada that year and for the past eight years had been employed by Fairley Aviation.

Mr. Wilson is survived by his wife and two daughters, aged nine and five.

McCall Brothers have charge of funeral arrangements.

OTTAWA DUCKS
ANTI-FAG
CAMPAIGN

OTTAWA (UPI)—Any official anti-smoking campaign would have to be initiated by the province and not the federal government Health Minister Monteith said today.

He told the Commons that while his department could assist any province in such a project, "We are in no position to initiate such agitation programs."

Monteith made the statement when questioned by Barry Mather (NDP—New Westminster).

COMMONS

Key Vote
Tonight

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons winds up the general throne speech debate tonight with a vote which the minority Conservative government apparently regards as the key test in determining whether it has the confidence of the House.

The vote will be taken at 10:45 p.m. EDT on a government motion for a formal throne speech to be delivered by the Governor-General at the opening of Parliament two weeks ago today.

The fact that the throne speech was written for Gen. Vanier by Prime Minister Diefenbaker and his cabinet makes the vote, in effect, an adoption of the legislative program in the speech as the parliamentary agenda for this session. Other items can be added later.

There is no formal Commons rule declaring what motions are ones of confidence or of non-confidence, but parliamentary precedents make any amendment to the motion for adoption of the address a non-confidence motion. The House has already defeated four of these this session, including two proposed by the Liberal opposition.

Air Crash Probe

OTTAWA (CP)—A team of experts is investigating the accident at RCAF station Bagotville, Que., which took two lives Wednesday night, Defence Minister Harkness reported to the Commons today. (See story page 9.)

Fierce Battles
On Yemen Borders

CAIRO (Reuters)—Fierce battles were reported raging along the borders of Yemen today in the wake of other reports saying the new Yemeni republic government considered itself at war with neighboring Saudi Arabia.

All Cairo newspapers carried reports describing "ferocious" battles along the frontiers between Yemeni revolutionary forces and "forces of aggression."

The reports, from the semi-official Egyptian Middle East news agency correspondent in the Yemeni capital of Sana'a, said latest information indicated King Saud of Saudi Arabia had sent regular forces to the northern borders and was working desperately to concentrate all arms in the south.

Some reports Wednesday said royalist forces had overwhelmed a garrison of 500 revolutionary troops defending a border fort.

PILOT CHARGES UN SUPPRESSED FACTS

STOCKHOLM (UPI)—The pilot of a United Nations plane shot down in Katanga said today that central Congolese troops were responsible for the shooting.

Capt. Anders Lundqvist claimed these facts were known—and suppressed—by the United Nations.

"It was the central government's troops who shot us down," Lundqvist said, "and it is inconceivable that the UN does not want to tell the truth."

Lundqvist was the pilot of the UN Dakota which was shot down Sept. 20 over northern Katanga. Two Swedish crew members were killed.

Lundqvist said the other survivors agree that Leopoldville soldiers shot down the plane.

Lundqvist's contract with the United Nations expired Wednesday. He said he feels no obligation to keep silent now.

Teachers Want 11.53 Per Cent

Greater Victoria Teachers' Association Wednesday requested wage increases for 1963 which would boost salaries an average 11.53 per cent.

School board secretary-treasurer T. L. Christie estimated the proposed total $620,258 increase would raise taxes 2.78 mills on the basis of 1962 assessments.

Board and teachers' representatives met for the first time Wednesday night and agreed on a number of minor amendments to the present contract.

They left the bargaining over salary requests to another meeting next week.

But an initial clash over supervisory allowances given principals and vice-principals indicated tough sledding ahead.

TWO CATEGORIES

The wage requests were presented in two categories—basic salaries for teachers and supervisory allowances.

The basic salary increases—which were not discussed—would provide an overall raise of $566,133 or 10.78 per cent.

At the low end of the scale, this would lift the $3,000 paid to a barely qualified teacher just starting out to $3,360.

At the high end of the scale, it would raise salaries from $8,360 to $9,206 for the highest qualified teachers after 14 years' service.

The GVTA request said supervisory allowances should be brought up to date after last being revised in 1957.

HIGHER RANGE

They proposed present allowances, which range from $700 to $2,035 depending on the type and size of the school, should be boosted to a range running from $1,000 up to $3,595.

The school board estimated this would add $54,124 to its costs, representing an average 45.94 per cent increase in allowances.

Trustee David Logan said some principals' allowances would only increase 31.3 per cent while others went up as high as 71.6 per cent.

He cited a table of principals' actual total salaries which showed the present range of $5,727 to $12,405 would rise to $6,667 and $15,568 if the GVTA request was permitted.

He said "such substantial increases" could not be justified.

LOWER RATIO

Among other requests by the teachers was insertion of a clause which would bring the teacher-pupil ratio to one for 30. Present ratio theoretically is one teacher for every 38 pupils.

Mr. Logan said reduction of the size of classes was desirable as an educational advance but the cost would raise taxes substantially.

Teachers' spokesman V. N. R. Sewell said the one to 30 ratio was recommended by the Chant Roy Commission and school boards should join the teachers in urging the provincial government to implement it.

"School trustees should join us in howling for this. We can't do it all by ourselves," he said. He suggested it would be better to spend more money in hiring enough teachers to reduce class sizes than it would be to divert the money into the very best school buildings.

Funeral Rites Today For Ex-Customs Head

Last rites were held today for John Ironside Angus, First World War veteran and former surveyor of customs, who died Sunday after a Victoria residence that began 54 years ago.

Born in Motherwell, Scotland, Mr. Angus spent 22 years here in federal government service, retiring as surveyor of customs. He was overseas for three years with the 88th Battalion, which he joined in Victoria.

He was a long-term member of Victoria Horticultural Society and Canadian Pacific Lawn Bowling Club.

Services were held in Sands Memorial Chapel, Rev. J. C. Jackson officiating. Interment was at Hatley Memorial Gardens.

Mr. Angus is survived by the widow, Margaret, at the family home, 2646 Musgrave Street; one daughter, Mrs. J. Nielson, in Victoria; two brothers, Alex at Cowichan Bay and Norman at Long Beach, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. Julia A. Barnett, Alaska, and four grandchildren.

If that was his intention, he apparently couldn't make either deal.

Tremendously enthusiastic about details of both deals for months, he appeared suddenly disinterested today.

TALKED TO DEALERS

He said he talked to investment dealers, insurance companies and pension fund operators in New York and Tuesday addressed a dinner of financiers at the Waldorf Hotel.

"I didn't talk to anybody about the Columbia," he said. "The technical people are having talks."

He said any deal to sell Columbia benefits for 5 mills would go to Ottawa, because the federal Parliament still has to ratify a treaty on the project with the U.S.

He reaffirmed his stand that his government would never allow development of the Columbia just for American benefits, and that he wanted to finance not only the three dams but also generation of 2,000,000 horsepower at Mica Creek with his benefit revenue.

"In the meantime the Peace River gives us all the power we need," he said. (It will start producing in 1968.)

As for the Columbia: "It's in the hands of the technical people—that's all I'm going to say at the present time."

OPEN-MINDED

As long as B.C. gets its 2,000,000 horsepower at Mica free, he said, "we're open-minded" about any financial formula—5 mills or otherwise—negotiated with the U.S.

Mr. Bennett said the premier "doesn't interfere" in such negotiations. "If they get the contract I'll get the money."

He is fiscal agent for B.C. Hydro and up to now has called the tune on power policy.

The premier now says "it doesn't matter" how B.C. Hydro sells to the U.S. and he "won't be in the picture" on negotiations as long as Hydro officials get enough money to pay for Mica.

Irish Protestants Protest

ROME (AP)—Three clergymen from Northern Ireland who are here to protest against Protestant observers attending the Roman Catholic ecumenical council were under police watch Wednesday after passing out pamphlets in St. Peter's Square.

The three—Rev. Ian Paisley, Rev. John Wylie and Rev. John Douglas—were picked up at their hotel earlier in the day and driven to a police station in a police van.

Paisley, 36, is moderator of the Free Presbyterian Church of Ulster.

Italian police said the three merely had been "invited" to the station.

"If that's that invitation, I don't know the meaning of language," said Paisley afterward. "We tried to leave the station after 20 minutes and were stopped. Isn't that an arrest?"

When the ministers returned to their hotel they reported finding Italian detectives in the lobby.

"They say they'll stay with us 24 hours a day and we'll be instantly arrested if we go near St. Peter's again," Paisley said. "We're reconsidering our position."

Italian law prohibits any action considered offensive to Roman Catholicism, the state religion. It also forbids pamphlet-passing without police permission.

COUNCIL BIG BOOST FOR EMPLOYMENT

must face the materialism, secularism and the atheism epitomized by world communism, confronted the issue frankly in his 4,000-word speech.

"The great problem confronting the world after almost 2,000 years, remains unchanged," he said. "Christ is ever resplendent as the centre of his history and of life. Men are either with him and his church... or else they are without him and against him."

Those who are against God, he said, "give rise to confusion, to bitterness in human relations, and to constant dangers of fratricidal wars."

At the same time, the Pope made clear Christianity had to keep pace with a world in the dawn of the space age.

"In the present stage of things, good providence is leading us toward a new order of human relations which, through the work of men and often beyond their expectations turns toward the achievement of its superior and unexpected designs," said the Pope.

PAVING WAY

Pope John said this first council in nearly a century "is almost paving and consolidating the way toward that unity of mankind which is required."

The Pope said this council was being launched "under happy circumstances" but he expressed sorrow at those who were prevented by Communist rulers from attending.

Continuing in his optimistic theme, Pope John said: "We feel we must disagree with those prophets of gloom who are always forecasting disaster, as though the end of the world was at hand."

"Divine providence is leading us to a new order of human relations."

"In the daily exercise of our pastoral office, we sometimes have to listen, much to our regret to voices of persons who, though burning with zeal, are not endowed with too much sense of discretion or measure."

"In these modern times, they can see nothing but prevarication and ruin. And they have as though they had learned nothing from history."

Policeman To Blame

A coroner's jury Wednesday found that negligence by an RCMP constable caused a head-on collision which took the life of Mrs. Doris Bendall, 512 Fraser, on Sept. 15.

Mrs. Bendall, mother of five, died from throat cuts suffered when the impact hurled her through the windshield of the car in which she was a front seat passenger.

Driver of the other automobile was Const. Malcolm Joseph La Freniere of the RCMP vessel Victoria.

Esquimalt police constable D. L. Sproston expressed his opinion during testimony that a seat belt would probably have saved Mrs. Bendall's life.

OUT MORE THAN HOUR

The six-man jury was out for more than an hour before returning its negligence verdict to Coroner Dr. J. H. Moore.

Time of the mishap was set at about 9 p.m. The victim was riding with Mrs. Elizabeth Harrison, 448 Admirals Road, when according to evidence, Const. La Freniere's car plowed into them near the Esquimalt-Macaulay intersection.

Brian Roberts, counsel for La Freniere, protested when Dr. Moore read a section of the Motor Vehicle Act and the Criminal Code to the jury.

No one was being tried, he pointed out, as the court was conducting an inquiry, not a trial.

Dr. Moore over-ruled his objections.

Two-Week Start Expected On New Airport Terminal

It's really "green" for Victoria's new airport terminal.

The much-delayed, long-debated project will be started in about two weeks after announcement by local members of parliament that a federal contract has been awarded.

Low-bidder Sorenson Construction Co. Ltd. of Vancouver has got the job with a $631,300 contract.

Sorenson is already working on classrooms for Victoria College at the Gordon Head Campus. Most of the men for the airport job will be hired in Victoria, said Ian Lambie, estimator for the firm.

The terminal will be at the south end of Patricia Bay airport, off Willingdon Road. A new control tower will also be built. Ottawa's austerity drive forced a cut in the size of the terminal, but it is planned for future expansion.

When completed Patricia Bay will at last be "jet age" with a longer main runway already under construction.

Saanich Reeve Stanley Murphy welcomed the contract.

"With the university expansion and now the airport project, winter employment should be secure in all trades, far better than in recent winters," he said.

The only labor problem this winter could be a shortage of skilled tradesmen, he predicted.

Victoria Labor Council's secretary A. W. Toone agreed with Mr. Murphy, except about skilled trades.

"I've said all along the federal government should maintain its public works projects in this area in order to maintain employment at a high level," he said.

TRAIL (CP)—Barry McCumber, 11, was fatally injured Wednesday night when his soap-box car ran out of control and struck a steel lamp standard in Trail's Glengarry subdivision.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at hospital, where his mother, Mrs. B. R. McCumber, was a patient at the time. She was later released.

RCMP said the boy apparently coasted his unbraked car down a steep hill and was unable to steer it around a corner.

SOCRED SUPPORT

Behind-Scenes Cabinet Fight Major Factor

By KEN KELLY

OTTAWA (CP)—Continued Social Credit voting support for the government may depend to a great extent on what key members of the party consider to be a behind-the-scenes struggle within the cabinet.

Social Credit is pressing privately as well as publicly for government moves in four areas affecting business and the economy.

On the success of these efforts may hang the life of the minority Progressive Conservative government in the Commons.

To date, Social Credit votes have provided the edge which has kept the Progressive Conservative administration in office and beaten off the combined strength of Liberals and New Democrats.

Standing in the Commons is 116 Conservatives, 100 Liberals, 30 Social Credit and 18 New Democrats. One seat is vacant.

The reason behind this voting support has been described publicly by Robert Thompson, Social Credit leader, as a desire to give the government a chance to put forward its legislative and budgetary proposals.

However, Mr. Thompson may have additional reasons based

B.C. Whets Tourist Appetites

VANCOUVER (CP)—Some 80 per cent of American tourists who visited British Columbia this year plan to come back, Recreation Minister Westwood said Wednesday night.

Addressing a service club meeting, the minister said the information was obtained through government questionnaires completed by visitors from the U.S.

The most common comment was: "We never realized what you had in this country."

Mr. Westwood said with 3,000,000 visitors spending $145,000,000 in the province this year, tourism now was B.C.'s third largest industry.

"And we haven't even scraped the surface of the tourist potential," he said. "It is only a matter of time before tourism will rank a second only to the forest industry."

Bonner Rapped On Kent Bylaw

A Supreme Court judge rapped Attorney-General Robert Bonner Wednesday for prejudging the validity of Kent municipality's bylaw to ban Freedoms.

Mr. Justice Craig Munroe added his comments to an injunction which he issued upholding the bylaw until it is tested fully in court.

He said the bylaw is valid and must be upheld by police until proven otherwise. It is aimed at keeping Freedomite marchers on Agassiz prison from entering the municipality.

The injunction was sought by Kent after Mr. Bonner expressed distaste for the bylaw, and said he doubted it would be upheld in court.

Chinese Entered Canada As Wife of Her Father

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Chinese woman testifying in an immigration trial Wednesday told the court she came into Canada as the wife of her father.

The testimony came out during cross-examination of Wong Mah Der, a Crown witness who said earlier that she "bought the paper" to bring Betty Chin into Canada from Hong Kong.

Broadcaster Harvey Lowe and his wife, Nora, are charged with conspiring with each other and with others to procure the unlawful entry into Canada of Betty Chin between 1953 and 1956.

Wong Mah Der also admitted under questioning that her son was brought into Canada as her father's son.

The trial was adjourned Wednesday to allow defence counsel to obtain original copies of a proceeding he alleges the witness went through to divorce her father in the fall of 1959.

Wong Mah Der said she came to Canada in 1953 as her father's wife. She remembered going to a court proceeding here but had not been asked any questions. She said her father brought papers home for her to sign. She identified papers produced by defence counsel as copies of a divorce proceeding.

VIGOROUS AT 81

'The Humble Pope' Launches Major Task

VATICAN CITY (AP)—At an age when most men have retired, Pope John today plunged vigorously into one of the most arduous tasks of his long career—the active leadership and direct control of the Vatican ecumenical council.

His warm personality and his firm hand will dominate the great concave which has brought together almost every cardinal, archbishop and bishop of the Roman Catholic Church. The largest gathering of Catholic bishops in history, and the first ecumenical council in 92 years, will see Pope John reach the age of 81 next month. He may be 82 before the council ends.

When he called the council four years ago—barely two months after he was crowned pontiff—he must have known the strain it would place upon him.

Then 77, he was the oldest newly elected pope in more than 200 years and one of the oldest in the church's 2,000-year history.

LOOKS ROBUST

The fourth of 12 children of a north-Italian farmer, Pope John carries his more than 200 pounds with a sturdy stride. He looks robust. His eyes twinkle like a schoolboy's. His voice is young with the vigor of good health.

Since the day he convoked the great ecumenical council, 21st in the history of the church, it has been plain that he considered this tremendous work the great achievement of his reign.

That reign has already been marked by major innovations. Pope John proved himself a precedent-breaker from the start.

He increased the College of Cardinals to its greatest size in history. He visited Rome's jails. He walked the Roman streets. He made a whistle-stop train tour of Italy unique in modern papal history. He sometimes used the pronoun "I" instead of the formal "we" which popes traditionally use. He often joked.

He paid his throne bearers, who carry him on their shoulders, an extra fee because his weight was considerably greater than that of the lean Pope Pius XII whom he succeeded.

He often chose to walk. A few days ago, paying an unannounced visit to a gathering of cardinals he walked into the room followed by his bearers carrying the empty throne.

"These poor fellows have been following me around everywhere," the pope said. "I think they're afraid of losing their jobs."

Some newspapers have called John XXIII "Johnny Walker."

Many have called him "the humble pope." He has given much evidence that he likes that title.

CROSS-FIRE OF CHARGES AT LUMBER PROBE

U.S. Groups Split on Curbs

WASHINGTON (CP)—A cross-fire of charges highlights the final stages of a tariff commission hearing that has shown a deep split in the United States on the merits of imposing steeper import restrictions on highly important lumber imports from Canada.

As two representatives of manufacturers accused British Columbia mills of maintaining a price-fixing combine, a burly New England wholesaler shot back that the manufacturers had raised the fire alarm on Canadian shipments and then bolted to play golf while businessmen stewed in the hearings room.

The most dramatic moment in the protracted and somewhat repetitive debate came Wednesday when Alfred Sachs, counsel and treasurer of a crippled U.S. western lumber manufacturing company, and Leonard Netzorg, counsel for U.S. Western Forest Industries Association, raised the price-combine issue.

SAYS PRICES FIXED

Netzorg alleged that Seaboard Lumber Sales Limited of Vancouver was made up of a number of B.C. mills combining "to maintain prices or prevent price competition." Bertram Hoffmeister, president of B.C. Forest Industries Council, who was under cross-examination denied this and Claude Finger, Seaboard managing director who was in the audience, told reporters later the company is a co-operative export sales agency with profits going back to the 35 member mills.

Sachs extended the charge by wrapping MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Limited into the price-fixing allegations, but William Dowling, a tariff commissioner, rejected his allegations as irrelevant and told him to take his charges elsewhere.

Tariff Chairman Ben Dorfman interceded, saying that while the commission is being overloaded with irrelevant testimony, the burden wouldn't be increased if Sachs could provide factual evidence on which he based his allegations.

Sachs admitted he couldn't that he was attempting to find evidence by cross-examining Hoffmeister. But Sachs' allegations were described by Herbert Fierst, counsel for the B.C.

industry, as "wild and unsupported allegations."

Spirits were restored temporarily when U.S. wholesalers and distributors, splitting with the manufacturers in opposing the proposed tariff increases, introduced exhibit No. 53, which turned out to be two short pieces of two-by-four studding to show differences in U.S. and Canadian quality.

"So this is what lumber looks like," said one commissioner jokingly as the pieces were passed along the commissioners' bench.

Seven prominent wholesalers, some representing associations, argued they urgently need Canadian lumber; that Canadian sales promotion is better; prices steadier and Canadian quality higher than American production.

But the irritations and impatience of the long and somewhat tedious hearings showed again when John Furman, Boston wholesaler, accused the manufacturers of starting a case they weren't even interested in finishing.

Evidently referring to top officials of the U.S. National Lumber Manufacturers Association who had demanded the proposed increased restrictions, Furman said they had shown irreresponsibility by having raised an alarm and then vanished from the hearings to play golf while wholesalers and other businessmen were forced to attend hearings at a time when they had their own businesses to operate in other parts of the country.

POWER OFF

HEYWOOD AVENUE AREA

It will be necessary to interrupt electric service in the Heywood Avenue area, on from approximately 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.

The streets affected will be:
1. Heywood Avenue, from Blanshard to Pendergast.
2. Southgate Street, from Rupert to Vancouver.

Will Parliament Surrender?

IN THE FORM OF EMERGENCY tariffs the Canadian government has levied taxes on the people without the consent of Parliament. Perhaps it was compelled to do so in the exchange crisis of last June when the nation faced immediate bankruptcy as a result of the government's five years of mismanagement. But after levying the taxes the government was bound to seek Parliament's approval for them at the earliest possible date.

Though the government refused to summon Parliament for several months, most Canadians assumed that it would submit its taxes to the people's representatives as a first item of parliamentary business. After all, the exclusive right of Parliament to levy taxes is the foundation of the British parliamentary system, as King Charles I discovered, too late, on the executioner's block.

Yet the government, intends to disregard the parliamentary system. In a typically tortured legal argument, Mr. Fleming declares that the government had the right to impose these taxes under certain obscure statutes without Parliament's approval. Opposition lawyers take the opposite view and regard the taxes as quite illegal.

That is a question about which honest lawyers may quarrel but it is not the important question for Parliament to consider. The important question is whether the government can flout Parliament and get away with it.

For the moment the government has got away with it. Apparently it can get away with anything solely because Social Credit fears an election. No one expects Social Credit to take any serious interest in the rights of Parliament, where its 30 members now dominate the politics of Canada and thoroughly enjoy their accidental power.

We Have the Warning

TO THE MANY PROTESTS against the local smoke nuisance—economic and aesthetic in particular—has been added one based on health considerations. The serious warning of Dr. Whitbread, medical health officer for Greater Victoria, should be given full attention by provincial and community authorities as well as the general public.

Dr. Whitbread sees a definite danger in the clouds of chimney gases which sweep over various parts of the community at frequent intervals. Such pollution could be a cause of death if not removed, as has been shown in various other communities. It is no defence to say that there are other cities worse than Victoria. The point is that conditions here could be readily alleviated. Like open sewage ditches, smoke pollution is something you can get used to—but that is not an argument for doing so.

The present hold-up in improvement, due to legislative problems, should be solved as quickly as possible and a completely unacceptable hazard removed.

A MAJOR EVENT IN HISTORY

By PATRICK O'DONOVAN

Its Decisions Will Affect Religious Life

FOR Roman Catholics the Council of the Church which opened in Rome today is a major event in history. For the rest it is a curiosity, perhaps a travesty of religion, perhaps a source of hope that a start may be made on the long road to Christian reunion.

Only twenty of these councils have been given the title Ecumenical—which means concerning the whole Church—by the Church of Rome. And that is a claim which only Catholics accept. The Orthodox churches accept only the first seven councils, because the eighth condemned their leaders and led to the great breach between the Orthodox and Latin churches. The Anglicans usually accept only the first four.

Ancient Belief

The practice of holding such councils is based on the ancient belief that, being divinely inspired, the Church as a whole cannot err. The Orthodox and many Protestants believe this, too, but believe also that since the Church is divided, it cannot speak with any agreed voice and that these infallible powers are in abeyance.

As a result, the Orthodox have accepted no new doctrines of any sort since the second Council of Nicea in 787. But for Catholics the Second Vatican Council is as infallible as the first called in Nicea by Emperor Constantine to define the mystery of the Trinity. They believe it inspired by the Holy Ghost. The last council was held in 1869, also in the Vatican, and, acting against the whole current of the times, it declared that the Pope when speaking as Pope on faith or morals was also infallible.

Considerable expectations have been raised by this Second Vatican Council. One reason for these is the new civility that exists between Protestants of many sects and Catholics. Another is the apparent optimism of the Pope himself. Another is the real progress that the Protestants have made among themselves and even with the Orthodox. And another, perhaps, is simply the wishful thought that a major and dramatic step may be made towards ending the endless scandal of disunity.

Such hopes have no chance of being fulfilled. It is not in the nature of the Roman Church to cancel any of her former dogmas or to relax her claims to total authority. The most that can be expected is a further relaxation of tension.

Yet this council is unique in history. Unlike its predecessors, it has not been called to condemn a heresy, halt some wave of corruption, or even to promulgate some controversial doctrine.

It was summoned three years ago on the personal decision of John XXIII. Its purpose is to modernize the Church, to remove anomalies, to raise its efficiency and to relax its more outmoded disciplines.

For Catholics it could bring fascinating change. Parts of the Mass that are directed to the people, may, perhaps, be said in the vernacular. Strictly enclosed monks and nuns may be told to do at least some work in the world outside their convent walls. Married deacons may be introduced; perhaps even, under special circumstances, married clergy.

In the new spirit, the Church may define the spiritual status of non-Catholics in terms far less harsh than those used up to now. More co-operation between Catholics and non-Catholics may be encouraged. The rules that cover mixed marriages may be relaxed. The possibilities are considerable.

But before any profound changes can be made, a weight of traditional conservatism must be overcome. Many of the cardinals in Rome are in no hurry for change. The bishops of South America, Italy and Spain have been hardly touched by the sort of eagerness for reform and development that has seized the clergy of France and Germany and Holland and Asia and Africa. The bishops from the British Isles and from North America are likely to be cautious. And each has a say and a vote in the proceedings.

Full Schedule

The bishops, some 2,600 of them, will meet inside the nave of St. Peter's for a full session each morning at 8. They will sit in white mitres and copes on tiered stands. They will hear first a "red" Mass, a votive mass to the Holy Ghost. The Book of Gospels will lie open in their midst. They will speak in Latin—which will keep some silent—and when they are finished they will vote on an electronic machine. Their afternoons will be spent in committee.

It is uncertain how long it will last. The council will break up before Christmas and probably reconvene in a few months. Its decisions will affect the religious life of all Catholics. It cannot fail to affect the uncertain religious climate in which all Christians live today. (London Observer Service)

UNFAIR TO BEARDS

I don't know why people claim that we grow beards to cover up weak chins, or make us look younger. I don't admit it. We "beards" don't object to people wearing glasses and horned-rimmed glasses to add an air of authority and hide their baby faces, or indeed to the careful combing of hair over bald patches to make them look younger. But there is undoubtedly a very general feeling against beards: those people who have to scrape the hair off every day—like the fox in the fable who cut his tail off and wanted everybody else to cut theirs off too.

In the Cuban Question the Facts Do Not Now Compel a Decision to Go to War

By Walter Lippmann, From Washington

ON the question of going to war over Cuba (by blockade or invasion) we now have available a summary of the intelligence findings on which the administration is acting. These facts explain the president's decision to confine himself at this time to measures which are short of war. The facts were put on the record Oct. 3, before the House Select Committee on Export Control by Mr. George Ball, the undersecretary of state.

This intelligence estimate is based on an elaborate system of surveillance by sea, by air, and by land, and there is every reason to think that its accuracy is very high. For Cuba is an island easily within reach of the Navy and the Air Force, and with modern apparatus of electronic and photographic intelligence, little of military interest can happen without our knowing it.

We do not have to guess about what is being landed at the Cuban ports or about what is being constructed on Cuban territory. We know. And anyone who chooses to question the basis of our present policy must begin by proving that the intelligence estimates are wrong.

So I shall quote in full Mr. Ball's testimony on the crucial question of the Cuban military buildup.

"Since July, when the volume of Soviet military shipments to Cuba suddenly vaulted upward, 85 shiploads have arrived in Cuban ports. Many of them carried military items, supplies, and personnel. These shipments have consisted, in part, of types of weapons previously delivered to the Cuban armed forces, including more tanks, self-propelled guns, and other ground force equipment."

"The major tonnage in recent shipments, however, has been devoted to SA-2, surface-to-air missiles (SAMs)—together with all the related gear and equipment necessary for their installation and operation. To date, 15 SAM sites have been established in the island. We estimate the total may eventually reach 25. These are anti-aircraft missiles having a slant range of 20 to 25 miles."

"In addition, three and possibly four missile sites of a different type have been identified. These sites are similar to known Soviet coastal defence missile sites that are believed to accommodate anti-shiping missiles with a range of 20-35 miles. Quite likely several more sites will be installed."

"Cuba is now estimated to have 60 older-type MIG jet aircraft. In addition, at least one advanced jet-interceptor has recently been received, and probably several more are in the process of assembly. This type of advanced jet-interceptor is usually equipped with infraair-to-air missiles. We estimate that the total of these advanced interceptors in Cuba may eventually reach 25 to 30."

"In addition, 16 'Komar'-class guided missile patrol boats, which carry two short-range missiles (11-17 miles), were included in recent shipments."

"About 4,500 Soviet military specialists have arrived, including construction men and technicians."

"The military buildup, in short, consists of weapons for the army, anti-aircraft missiles, coastal defence weapons, some short-range patrol boats, a few fighter-interceptors, and some 4,500 Soviet specialists, technicians, and construction men."

"What is it all for? To attack the United States? Obviously not. The United States, using only conventional weapons, could dispose of Cuba in a few hours."

"Is the buildup to invade a Latin American neighbor? Conceivably, but only if Castro were prepared for the enormous punishment that would follow. It is obvious, I submit, that Castro is being armed against a re-run of the raid on the Bay of Pigs in April, 1961. Tanks, coastal defences, patrol boats, and anti-aircraft equipment would be just exactly what he would need to repel another landing of Cuban exiles."

"The present Cuban military buildup is only not capable of offensive action, but also it is not capable of defensive action against the United States."

What then is Mr. Khrushchev up to in Cuba? Secondly, perhaps he is baiting a trap for us which, if we fall into it, would throw the whole Western alliance into confusion and disorder just at the time when a Berlin crisis is developing."

But primarily, Mr. Khrushchev is in Cuba because he has talked so loudly about helping revolutions."

Castro has thrown himself into Khrushchev's arms, and is blackmailing him. The Castro regime has made itself the prime and public test of whether international Communism is a real force or a lot of words. Unless Castro can be made to succeed in Cuba, the revolutionary propaganda among the backward countries in the rest of the world will be greatly weakened."

So Mr. Khrushchev, despite what was undoubtedly much reluctance, is entangled in the fortunes of Fidel Castro. He must pour into Cuba oil and machinery, raw materials and food, and technicians and knowhow, and money in order to demonstrate that Communism can do better and faster in Cuba what the United States and Alliance for Progress are trying slowly, but by peaceable means, to do elsewhere in Latin America."

This is the core of the Soviet-Cuban alliance. Mr. Ball described the Soviet intervention in Cuba as an effort "to establish a beachhead for subversion in this hemisphere." This would mean that Cuban facilities and Cuban connections with other countries in Latin America would be used to infiltrate agents and propaganda and small arms and money."

All of this will work only if in Cuba there is a showpiece of successful Communism. It will not work if the agents come from a land that is in misery and disorder."

It follows that as long as there is no direct military aggression by Cuba, as long as we are limiting ourselves to measures short of war, one of the best responses is to force the Soviet Union and the Soviet bloc to carry the whole burden of Cuban reconstruction."

That is the intent of the shipping measures now being formulated. They will not destroy the Castro regime now. But they will make it much more expensive and inconvenient for the Soviet Union to make Castro succeed."

Following the increasing application of the war party in this country, I have turned once more to a famous passage in Winston Churchill's writings in which he discusses the rights and wrongs of going to war."

"The safety of the state, the lives and freedom of their own fellow countrymen, to whom (the statesmen) owe their position, make it right and imperative in the last resort, or when a final and definite conviction has been reached, that the use of force should not be excluded."

As Our Readers See It

Raise the Rates

Re: "Jobless Fund Faces Bankruptcy in Winter"

That is the heading in a recent issue of the daily press.

This situation has faced Canada before. When it faces the insurance business very serious thought is given to the raising of insurance rates.

Is that not the right thing to do in the case of the jobless fund?

One may not like doing this but surely it is much better than bankrupting the Unemployment Insurance Fund, or even risking doing so?

The very fact that such a fund is in danger reduces employment, which is against the interests of everyone of us.

Erin Go Bragh

History is about to repeat itself in Greater Victoria.

Dr. Johnson once said "The Irish are a fair people. They never speak well of one another." It has also been said that if they cannot find a common enemy they will fight among themselves. And so at Prospect Lake School tonight there will be a debate between two prominent Irishmen, Reeve of Saanich Stanley Murphy and Councillor Joseph Casey on that vital question amalgamation. To make it an all-Irish affair the referee will be the genial president of the Prospect Lake and District Community Association, Mr. Brian (Boru) Hoole.

It will be remembered that at the last municipal election there were only two polling places in the municipality which did not give Mr. Murphy, the amalgamationist, a majority. One of them was Prospect Lake and some of Mr. Murphy's friends are said to be worrying about him going into the Canadian Mississippi of home rulers, segregationists and isolationists without a bodyguard of troops. However, it is expected that the Saanich police will be on hand with ambulances and pothern for any casualties.

It is rumored that at the half-time entertainment period Mr. Murphy will recite "There is no joy in Mudville; Mighty Casey has struck out," while Mr. Casey will respond with "I've clanked out the Finnegans and licked all the Murphys afloat."

WALDRON GREENE, Ritz Hotel.

British Health Plan

In your Oct. 2 issue, Page 5, Dr. Johnson—a visiting U.K. doctor—is reported to have said, when asked by your reporter why the Conservative government in Britain had not changed certain undesirable facets of the British health plan—"that's what we wonder, too."

I cannot believe that an intelligent and educated man, like the good doctor, would wonder about this problem when he knows that Britain is a free democracy and if the British public was not solidly behind the plan one of the political parties would have made this an issue at one of the three general elections which have taken place since the plan was put into operation. Dr. Johnson knows that the overwhelming majority of the people in Britain approve and support the plan and that no government—Conservative, Liberal or Labor—would dare to scrap or change the plan basically or they would face sure defeat at the next general election.

After a trial period of 10 years the London Times and the Manchester Guardian, two of the leading newspapers in the world and surely no Socialist organs, stated categorically that the British health plan, in spite of certain weaknesses, had been an outstanding success. Dr. Johnson also stated that the doctors were showing their disapproval of the plan by leaving Britain. It might surprise the good doctor to know that percentage-wise more doctors leave Canada for the U.S. than doctors leave the U.K. for other countries. Canadian doctors are not running away from any "pernicious" health plan.

I would also point out that national health plans are operating successfully in many countries such as West Germany, France, Norway, Sweden, Holland, Denmark and others. As these countries are very anti-Communist and have booming economies and little unemployment, apparently social and medical welfare can be provided without damage to the economy. Apparently in Canada, with all our natural resources, the medical welfare of our people is a luxury we cannot afford.

U.S. Quotas Face Canadian Oil

By GORDON BELL
Times Business Editor

The Canadian oil industry has quietly accepted as a fact that exports of western crude to the U.S. will have to come under some sort of quota arrangement as a result of pressure brought to bear on the Kennedy administration by U.S. producers.

It is expected that agreement between the U.S. and Canada will be made sometime next month and quotas will come into effect at the first of the year.

However, the industry is seemingly confident that despite pressures from the American producers, there will still be plenty of margin in the quotas for Canadian crude exports to maintain the growth envisaged in the national oil policy.

Assurances have been given apparently by Washington that there will be no attempt to cut back present deliveries that Canadian crude will be given a reasonable share of the expanding U.S. market and that it will have priority over imports from overseas.

The agreement between Ottawa and Washington will be primarily concerned with slowing down the rapidly-growing Canadian oil invasion of eastern markets.

Since devaluation of the Canadian dollar, Canadian oil has been at a bargain price in eastern U.S. markets which it had never penetrated before and this led to renewed demands, to which President Kennedy has been forced to accede, for the quotas.

Bell

A slight cloud on the horizon for the B.C. mining industry, not serious yet but worth watching, is the gradual easing of world copper prices.

The price of 31 cents (U.S.) a pound for refined metal has been maintained now for 16 months but there is some doubt how long it can be held in the face of declining scrap copper prices. Copper production is away ahead of demand right now and the price is supported mainly by cutbacks—equivalent to 5 per cent of world production since June—and by support buying on the London market by African producers.

A slightly lower price for copper by next year has been predicted by a leading U.S. producer and refiner.

Frank Coolbaugh, president of American Metal Climax Inc., says he would not be surprised to see a drop of one cent a pound. "It would be as well," he said, "if the industry acted to keep the price from dropping too sharply."

The implication seems to be that if the industry does not act first to initiate price cuts, it will lose control of the situation and see even larger cuts forced on it.

B.C. lead and zinc producers have had their hopes of relaxed U.S. import quotas blasted by a report from the U.S. tariff commission to President Kennedy.

The commission reported that the competitive situation between domestic and foreign producers did not warrant formal reopening of a quota investigation.

MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd. chairman J. V. Clyne said in Toronto this week that in view of Canada's merchandise trade deficit with the U.S. "it does not appear likely that there will be very much upward pressure on the Canadian dollar."

"In fact," he told the Security Analysts' Association of Toronto, "the pressure might very well be the other way."

Mr. Clyne revealed that his company had profited handsomely from the depreciated dollar. Of the $6 million increase in net income in the first half of this year, roughly half was due to the premium on the U.S. dollar and the balance was due to greater efficiencies and careful cost control.

BRITAIN GETS NEW TERMS ON ECM ENTRY

BRUSSELS (Reuters)—The Common Market countries have proposed terms more favorable to Canada, Australia and New Zealand at the negotiations for British entry, sources close to the British delegation said Wednesday.

The proposals included some duty suspensions on processed foodstuffs and a slower rate of the application of the common external tariff on these than on manufactured products.

The sources said that from the British point of view the new proposals at first sight appeared more favorable than the original suggestions.

Some of the products mentioned at the discussions were smoked haddock, canned kangaroo meat and canned rabbit.

Wheat, Flour Exports Will Dip

MONTREAL (CP)—Canada will have a reduction in exports of wheat and flour in this crop year, George H. McIvor, president of Robin Hood Flour Mills, said today.

The extent of the reduction will depend largely on the amount of wheat bought by Red China during the crop year, he told 1,000 representatives of Canadian industry, labor and government at a one-day Canadian meeting of the National Industrial Conference Board, a U.S. research organization.

Mr. McIvor said the reduction would be caused by increased crops in importing countries and in most exporting countries, thus reducing world demand for wheat and flour.

He said he was optimistic about future exports to Common Market countries, but added he was worried about Canada's wheat exports to Britain if she joins the Common Market.

Engineer Jailed

DUESSELDORF, Germany (AP)—Albert Widmann, a chemical engineer, was sentenced Wednesday to 3½ years in prison for his part in the death of three prisoners of the Sachsenhausen concentration camp in the Second World War. Widmann was at the time working on a poison gas bullet which was used to kill the three prisoners. They had been sentenced to death.

He said if Britain entered and restrictions were placed on the amount of high-grade Canadian flour allowed to enter the U.K., the British milling industry would no longer use great quantities of Canadian wheat in making competitive flour. They would be able to reduce imports of Canadian wheat and use cheaper varieties of wheat.

"It is essential, therefore, that every effort should be made to maintain the position of Canadian hard spring wheat flour in the United Kingdom market and our industry has been in close consultation with our government."

He was speaking in a panel discussion of leading Canadian executives of economic prospects of their industries.

MONTREAL (CP)—A group of banks, insurance companies and other firms announced Wednesday the formation of a company to provide venture capital and management assistance for young Canadian enterprises.

The new company, called Canadian Enterprise Development Corporation, has a capitalization of $5,000,000.

A. Bruce Matthews, president and chairman of the corporation and president of the Excelsior Life Insurance Company, said CED is not a lending agency "but will specialize in venture capital financing."

"Any new, small or medium-sized company is eligible for CED's assistance, provided it is managed by men of integrity who have worth while new ideas or concepts to market with excellent growth potential."

"CED will also assist in establishing companies to make use of new ideas or techniques."

REDUCE PAPER WORK

Control Towers Seen For Busy Seaports

BALTIMORE (AP) — U.S. ports soon may have central control towers to check ships in and out of harbors electronically, Donald W. Alexander, U.S. federal maritime administrator, said Wednesday.

Alexander said such control towers would be similar to those used at airports.

The electronic communication devices in the towers would reduce greatly the time-consuming paperwork now needed by ships entering ports for entrance and clearance formalities, Alexander said.

In a speech prepared for the 31st annual convention of the American Association of Port Authorities, Alexander said every ship would check in and out of harbor at one location. Clearance and entrance formalities would be "handled by push-button."

U.K. Decline Blamed On Jews by Neo-Nazi

LONDON (Reuters) — British neo-Nazi leader Colin Jordan told a court Wednesday he is anti-Jewish "because I love my mother country and hate what the Jews have done to it."

Jordan and three other members of his National Socialist Movement have pleaded not guilty to charges of organizing a quasi-military force contrary to the 1936 Public Order Act.

In a 1½-hour statement to the jury Wednesday—seventh day of the trial—Jordan said the aim of his party is "the liberation of Britain from Jewish control."

"The National Socialist Movement declares that a malignant Jewish influence, conveniently exercised through the system of democracy, which the Jews manipulate, is the greatest single explanation for Britain's decline today."

Jordan said the National Socialists do not plan any violence against Jews, but would send them to their own country—presumably Israel.

Jordan, 39, John Tyndall, 28, Roland Kert-Ritchie, 42, and Denis Pirie, 23, have been accused of training and equipping members of an organization called Spearhead.

the lowest priced compact—the new 1963 Rambler American

By the time you read this, you will have seen many of the new Compacts. Now's your chance to compare them with the new 1963 Rambler American Six! There's no other compact to equal it for value. For instance, the Rambler American Six is the lowest priced Canadian-built car. What's more, it costs less to operate (it's never lost an economy run it's entered); less to maintain (just check the trade-in value of a Rambler American). This year, the Rambler American has even greater value because of new features and major improvements. And no other car is so completely built for Canadian conditions.

Take Deep Dip rustproofing. The entire car body is dipped completely in six separate baths which clean, scour and seal the surface of the metal. Developed at Rambler's Brampton, Ontario, plant it makes Rambler the most completely rustproofed car in the world.

Self-adjusting Double-Safety brakes, standard on every Rambler, are available on no other North American car except Cadillac. Front and rear brakes are independent: if one set is damaged, the other continues to operate—for a double margin of safety.

New for 1963 is an alternator which replaces the generator. Rambler's alternator, unlike a generator, charges even while the engine is idling so that your electrical system always gives you peak performance.

Rambler American's Ceramic-Armoured muffler is completely protected from rust and corrosion. Covered in durable ceramics, this muffler has been an exclusive Rambler feature for years. And it's guaranteed for as long as you own the car.

The Rambler American has a six-cylinder engine that's never been beaten in any economy run it's ever entered. Built for maximum usefulness to the user, this Rambler is the most practical car you can own. See your Dealer soon for a look at the latest version of the lowest-priced Canadian-built car. And while you're there, see the striking new beauty of the Rambler Classic Six and the Ambassador V8 with exclusive "Uniside" construction.

Fighter Hits TCA Viscount

Two Killed As Taxiing Airliner
Clipped By RCAF Voodoo In Quebec

BAGOTVILLE, Que. (CP) — A twin-engined RCAF jet fighter taking off on a routine night training exercise, sliced into the tail section of a taxiing Trans-Canada Air Lines Viscount airliner Wednesday night, killing a stewardess and one passenger.

Five other passengers of the 15 aboard the Viscount were injured, two seriously. Two of the other three crew members also were injured. One of the fighter's two-man crew was injured.

The dead stewardess was identified as Cecile Maria Keller, a 24-year-old native of Rorschach, Switzerland, who has worked with TCA for 15 months. The passenger, Joseph Houle of Montreal, died in hospital several hours after the crash.

A witness, Jack Whistler of Montreal who was waiting to board the four-engined Viscount, said the first indication of trouble was a flash after the TCA plane landed at the RCAF base 100 miles north of Quebec City.

SEES 'SMALL GLOW'

"I heard a noise—not very loud. Then there was a small glow, which disappeared almost immediately, then a puff of smoke."

The RCAF ambulance came out almost immediately and there were a lot of red lights moving back and forth.

"We all thought two air force planes were involved until we heard about the Viscount. . . I went back to the hotel not feeling too good."

R. Chartrand of Ste. Rose, Que., sitting at the rear of the Viscount, said he heard a crash and after a moment, felt a pain in his hand.

"I saw that the roof had opened and debris was flying about the aisle."

He said he could remember little else about the collision.

TCA said the Viscount was taxiing after landing and had just turned at an intersection of the runway when the Voodoo struck it by the rear door and continued on, struggling to gain altitude.

BOTH BAIL OUT

Both members of the Voodoo crew bailed out after getting their fighter high enough to work the ejection seats.

The pilot, Flying Officer J. S. Whalley, of Saint John, N.B., was not injured. His navigator, R. S. Jeffries of the London, Ont., area, broke an ankle. Their plane crashed and burned a mile away.

The pilot and co-pilot of the Viscount, Montrealers J. O. C. Laver and Grant J. Gehlsen, were uninjured. The second stewardess in the plane, Lorraine Joyee Povey of Medicine Hat, Alta., suffered a broken leg and scalp wounds.

The Hotel-Dieu Hospital at nearby Chicoutimi admitted all Viscount passengers and the TCA crew for observation.

Two of the injured were operated on immediately. The hospital said injuries to other passengers ranged from broken arms and legs to minor bruises.

INJURIES NOT SERIOUS

In hospital for observation were nine other passengers; all from Quebec province.

The passengers are to be flown to Montreal in a special plane Friday.

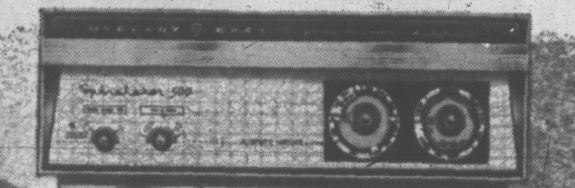

The Viscount was on a regular flight from Sept-Isles to Montreal when the collision occurred.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie Mays figures he'll go into hospital for his scheduled physical examination in San Francisco about Oct. 24.

"I thought I might go in next Monday," the Giants centre fielder said Wednesday "but I had a previous commitment for some exhibitions and have to go along with it."

The examination will be a continuation of checks made after he collapsed in the dug-out at Cincinnati Sept. 12. He was out of the lineup the next three games—all of which the Giants lost.

At the time, doctors gave him permission to play but suggested a further examination after the season. Fatigue was believed the underlying reason for the star outfielder's collapse.

Both World Series teams landed here Wednesday night in separate planes about five minutes apart and were greeted quietly.

About 150 friends and relatives met the Giants' plane in an area guarded by about 100 police officers.

New York Yankees' flight rolled up to the customary landing area about five minutes later with only a few on hand to greet them.

Giants' manager Al Dark said he had no intention of taking pitcher Jack Sanford out of Wednesday's game when he went out to talk with him moments before Tom Tresh crashed his game-winning home run in the eighth.

With one out, Tony Kubek and Bobby Richardson had hit sharp singles which brought Dark to the mound.

"I was just out there to show him down," Dark said. "I had no thought of taking him out. He's pitched too well against the Yankees to take him out, even though Don Larsen and Stu Miller were warming up."

In the second National League playoff game against Los Angeles, Dark took Sanford out quickly when he walked the first man in the sixth. The Giants were ahead 5-0 but were eventually defeated in that game.

"This was an entirely different situation," said Dark. "That day he was tired and had a cold. This time he had four days' rest."

Sanford didn't think he was tired either, saying: "I thought I still had it. Alvin had just told me to try to keep the ball lower."

Tresh said he was trying only for a single when he blasted his homer.

"I choked up on the bat and was trying to get a hit—any kind of a hit," the 24-year-old leftfielder explained over the din of the winning dressing room.

"I hadn't seen any good pitches all day from Sanford and wasn't expecting any. But when the fast ball came over the middle of the plate I took a fuller swing than I intended and that was it."

Faloney, who was charged from hospital Wednesday after an operation two weeks ago to remove the cartilage from his right knee, was optimistic about getting back in time for the playoffs and, of course, I want to if it is possible," Faloney said. "But I have been advised by both of the Tiger-Cat team doctors, not to play again this year."

"I've been told there is an 80-to-20 per cent chance of permanent injury if I played and got hit again," he added. "If I don't play this season the chances are good that I'd be perfectly fine next year."

The Tiger-Cat attack has spluttered under Canadian reserve Frank Costantino who has pinch-hit for Faloney in Hamilton's last six games.

Manager Len Back commented, tersely, "I very much doubt that Faloney will be in uniform again this year."

Faloney, himself, said, "I don't think I can play again this season."

The 1961 Schenley Award winner as Canada's outstanding football player was discharged from hospital Wednesday after an operation two weeks ago to remove the cartilage from his right knee.

"I am optimistic about getting back in time for the playoffs and, of course, I want to if it is possible," Faloney said. "But I have been advised by both of the Tiger-Cat team doctors, not to play again this year."

NEAR MISS FOR GIANTS

Sliding under attempted tag by San Francisco pitcher Jack Sanford, New York's Bobby Richardson scores Yankee run in sixth inning of Wednesday's World Series game. Richardson dashed from third base when catcher Tom Haller missed pitch by Sanford, who takes throw from Haller as he covers plate. Yankees won 5-3 to go ahead in series three games to two. (AP Wirephoto).

'Major' in Driver's Seat But Pitching's a Problem

By LEO H. PETERSEN

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Manager Ralph (the Major) Houk, needing only one more World Series victory over San Francisco Giants to clinch the New York Yankees' 20th world championship, today pondered a pitching problem for Friday's sixth game.

Would it be Whitey Ford, who has won more World Series games than any pitcher in baseball history? Would it be sore-legged Bill Stafford, or would it be a second-line pitcher like Bud Daley or Jim Coates?

As the series returned to Candlestick Park in San Francisco, with the Yankees leading three games to two, the pitching plans of Giant manager Al Dark were clearly outlined. It would be cagey, 35-year-old Billy Pierce on Friday, and if he were successful, the Giants planned to stake everything Saturday on lefty Billy O'Dell.

"I'll go seven games," Dark insisted. "Whoever takes the seventh takes it all."

Houk puffed on a cigar and beamed all the confidence of a man in the driver's seat following his Yankees' 5-3 victory Wednesday in Yankee Stadium.

Both the Yankees and the Giants, who arrived quietly Wednesday night, planned brief workouts at windy Candlestick Park today, weather permitting.

Ford, who announced after Wednesday's game that his sixth game pitcher would be "Ford or somebody," said he would know more about his pitching plans after today's workout. This was Houk's dilemma, if it might be called such.

Ford, who beat the Giants in the opening game, 6-2, and then was taken out in Monday's game with the score tied 2-2 in the sixth inning, will have the normal interval of three days' rest by Friday.

However, Ford, approaching 34, has worked better this season with an extra day of rest in between starts. Houk thus contemplated the idea of starting another pitcher Friday, so that if the series were extended to Saturday, the Yankees would have their pitching ace well-rested for the deciding game.

The problem might never come up had it not been for the ball hit that hit Sanford in the shin while he was pitching the Yankees to a 3-2 victory on Sunday. After being hit by Felipe Alou's line drive in the eighth inning, Sanford finished the game, but he has walked stiff-legged since.

That might leave it up to Daley, the soft-curve southpaw who was credited with the Yankees' final game victory in the 1961 series against Cincinnati Reds, or Coates, an in-and-out righthanded fireballer.

As for Dark, it's all cut and dry. Ford, obviously, was the Yankees' best bet, whenever he was fit to pitch. He has won 10 World Series games, including the last five straight, and lost only four.

Another possibility for the seventh game, if necessary, was Ralph Terry, who won his first World Series game with an eight-inning Wednesday.

Dark had no other logical choices except Pierce and O'Dell in that order.

The 35-year-old Pierce, an American League castoff who won 16 games and lost six for the Giants this season, has proved himself a "clutch" pitcher. Pierce is 12-0 in Candlestick Park.

Dark was outspokenly disgrusted with the Giants' defeat Wednesday.

"It was the worst game we have played in a long time," he snapped. When asked to be specific, he replied testily: "Didn't you see us out there in the first inning?"

He referred to the two errors the Giants made that inning, although the Yankees did not score.

Jack Sanford, a 2-0 winner over the Yankees in Friday's second game, was locked in a 2-2 tie with Terry until he weakened. Sanford, who had pitched three-hit ball for the first seven innings, yielded successive singles by Tony Kubek and Bobby Richardson before Tresh lofted his home run into the right field stands.

WINS STAKES In July, Match won the King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Stakes.

More than 60 horses still are in the big race to be run over one mile 240 yards at Newmarket next Wednesday.

Other leading odds: Bewildered, 12-1; Golden Wedding, 14-1; Color Blind, Fool's Gold, Raccoon, Shady Street, 20-1; Hasty Cloud, London Gazette, Tudor Treasure, 25-1; Eastern Nip, Owl, Passenger, Robson's Choice, Song of War, Space King, 33-1; Barwin, Damredud, Fere Jacques, Illuminous, Light Thrust, Principal, River Chatter, Sable Skinfint, Smuggler's Joy, Tann-Hills, Themides, Time Greine, Valentine, 40-1.

Canadians Take Six-Stroke Lead

Favored Yanks Falter Badly In Poor Weather

By ALAN CLINE

KAWANA, Japan (AP) — Canada shot into the lead in the third world amateur golf team championship today, overtaking a faltering United States squad with consistent near-par play on the dimly cold and wet Fuji course.

Long-hitting Gary Cowan of Kitchener, Ont., the first player on the course for the second round of the 72-hole stroke play tournament, showed the way with a 71 on the rain-soaked par 70 course which measures 6,587 yards.

Two other Canadians, Bill Wakeham of Victoria and Nick Westlock of Burlington, Ont., carded 73s to give Canada a 217-stroke team total for the day and a two-day score of 432.

Only the lowest three scores for each team each day are counted in compiling the team figures. After the first round Wednesday it was 212 for the United States and 215 for Canada.

Shade Sets Record The Americans, who had led by three strokes after the first round, came apart in today's cold rain and wound up six strokes behind Canada. Meanwhile Ronnie Shade, playing in the next-to-last threesome, shattered the Fuji course record with a round of 33-33-66 and boosted the combined Britain-Ireland team into contention.

New Zealand held on to third in the team standings with a two-day total of 442. Britain-Ireland followed with 444. Then came Formosa with 453, Australia 455, South Africa 456 and Japan 457.

The Americans' play was just about as miserable as the weather. Billy Joe Patton managed a scrambling 73 but Dick Sikes, two-time U.S. public links champion, soared from 69 to 76.

Labron Harris Jr., the U.S. amateur champion, had 77 after going six over par on the front nine and former champion Deane Beman staggered in with an 80 that didn't count in today's team scoring.

Eagle By Cowan Shade's 66, with five birdies and a one-over-par hole, lowered the Fuji course record set in 1954 by Japanese pro Pete Nakamura and equalled Wednesday by Cowan.

Cowan, probably the longest hitter in the field of 92 players representing 23 nations, eagled the 515-yard, par-5 11th hole in posting a round of 35-36-71 over the par 70, Fuji course. He had two birdies but was over par on five holes.

Wakeham, 21-year-old British Columbia amateur champion, said his 34 on the back nine was "the best nine holes I ever played."

Cowan's 36-hole total of 68-71-139 put him eight strokes ahead of Patton. But individual scoring doesn't count in the team championship except as a contribution toward the team score.

Paris (AP)—Match, one of the top handicappers of Europe, will attempt to become the third French horse to win the Washington, D.C., International at Maryland's Laurel race course Nov. 12.

Francis Dupre, prominent Paris hotel owner, said Wednesday night he has accepted an invitation to send Match to the U.S. for the $125,000 race.

Worden II, owned by the late R. B. Strassburger of France and Norristown, Pa., and Andre Lombard's Master Boing won the Washington International in 1953 and 1956 respectively.

Match was the favorite in the rich Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe last Sunday at Longchamp, but came home fifth in a tight photo finish.

WINS STAKES In July, Match won the King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Stakes.

More than 60 horses still are in the big race to be run over one mile 240 yards at Newmarket next Wednesday.

Other leading odds: Bewildered, 12-1; Golden Wedding, 14-1; Color Blind, Fool's Gold, Raccoon, Shady Street, 20-1; Hasty Cloud, London Gazette, Tudor Treasure, 25-1; Eastern Nip, Owl, Passenger, Robson's Choice, Song of War, Space King, 33-1; Barwin, Damredud, Fere Jacques, Illuminous, Light Thrust, Principal, River Chatter, Sable Skinfint, Smuggler's Joy, Tann-Hills, Themides, Time Greine, Valentine, 40-1.

TAKE MONEY, SAYS BASSETT

Have Leafs Decided To Call Jim's Bluff?

TORONTO (CP)—Hockey circles started buzzing again today with a report that Toronto Maple Leafs have decided to sell star left winger Frank Mahovlich to Chicago Black Hawks for $1,000,000.

The report, emanating from Toronto radio station CKFH, was promptly denied by Stafford Smythe, president of Maple Leaf Gardens Limited who last Saturday rejected the Hawks' $1,000,000 cheque following an offer made the night before at a party.

Joe Morgan, sports director of CKFH, said in a broadcast that the Leafs will accept the offer made for Mahovlich's services by Hawk owner Jim Norris.

"The Leafs have decided to take the money," Morgan said. "Norris will be notified this morning that the Leafs have called his bluff."

Harold Ballard, vice-president of Maple Leaf Gardens, said: "I don't know anything about it."

John Bassett, a director of Maple Leaf Gardens and a major stockholder, said he would recommend to other shareholders that Mahovlich be sold although "I hate to see a player of that calibre leave Toronto."

Norris says his offer "is still open."

Mahovlich, a 24-year-old 194-pounder, signed a four-year contract with the Leafs last weekend for a reported $110,000.

HAWKS BEATEN Age Improves Leaf Captain

By THE CANADIAN PRESS George Armstrong, Toronto Maple Leaf captain, gets better as he gets older.

The six-foot-one right-winger, whose early years in the National Hockey League had some people wondering whether the rave notices that preceded him out of amateur hockey were true, gained speed last season and was flying in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Wednesday night he picked up where he left off as the Leafs defeated Chicago Black Hawks 3-1 in the opening game of the 1962-63 National Hockey League season.

He scored two goals against the same Hawks that the Leafs beat last spring to win the Stanley Cup.

The remainder of the league gets going tonight — Montreal Canadiens at Boston Bruins and Detroit Red Wings at New York Rangers.

The 31-year-old Armstrong last season did better than ever before in the NHL, scoring 21 goals and asisting on 32 others. And in Leafs' 12 playoff games he had seven goals and five assists for 12 points.

STOLE THE PUCK He scored his second goal Wednesday night the hard way. Leafs were short-handed (defenceman Carl Brewer was off) and he had to steal the puck from all-star left winger Bobby Hull.

That was in the second period, when Toronto was leading 2-1, and provided the clincher. Armstrong had put the Leafs in front 1-0 at 4:01 of the first period while Chicago's Murray Balfour was sitting out of three penalties he received.

He grabbed the puck in a scramble in front of the Chicago goal and beat netminder Glenn Hall.

Right winger Ken Wharmham tied it up before Toronto defenceman Bobby Baum made it 2-1 by the end of the period.

Two Leafs were missing from the lineup—defenceman Allan Stanley with a slightly injured shoulder acquired in the all-star game Saturday and centre Red Kelly who came down Wednesday with the flu after arriving from Ottawa and his duties there as Liberal member of Parliament for York West.

FLOYD INSISTS On Rematch BOSTON (AP)—Cus D'Amato said Wednesday that dethroned heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson definitely will insist on a rematch with reigning titlist Sonny Liston.

Faloney Appears Out For Rest of Season

HAMILTON, Ont. (UPI) — charged from hospital Wednesday after an operation two weeks ago to remove the cartilage from his right knee, was optimistic about getting back in time for the playoffs and, of course, I want to if it is possible," Faloney said. "But I have been advised by both of the Tiger-Cat team doctors, not to play again this year."

"I've been told there is an 80-to-20 per cent chance of permanent injury if I played and got hit again," he added. "If I don't play this season the chances are good that I'd be perfectly fine next year."

The Tiger-Cat attack has spluttered under Canadian reserve Frank Costantino who has pinch-hit for Faloney in Hamilton's last six games.

Manager Len Back commented, tersely, "

VIKING VIEWS

By LES MILLIN

Tom Krall won't be swinging a hockey stick for some time.

The big and rugged Victoria College Vikings' defenceman is in St. Joseph's Hospital nursing a severe eye and facial injuries.

Krall spent five hours in surgery as a result of a practice accident Monday night in which he was hit in the face with a skate.

Two muscles behind the eyeball—itsself missed by a fraction of an inch—were severed by the blade. Another gash was opened near his mouth.

Krall will remain in a hospital ward at least another week, and what his vision will be like when he leaves hospital is unsure.

One thing is sure, though. He won't be in the Viking lineup Friday night, when the college team takes on the All-Stars of the Esquimalt League in an exhibition game preparatory to league play which starts Oct. 19.

Indications are that Victoria College will ice another strong team—perhaps not as strong as last year's playoff champions, but fast and capable.

Star defenceman Doug Barnborough will be back, and so will forward Ross Grenier, along with half-a-dozen other veterans.

Newcomers, many of them from the interior, make up the rest of the squad. If performance in play tallies with performance in practice, some of the rookies will be giving the veterans vigorous competition for stardom honors.

Controversy over an old problem bubbled up early in the college year, was settled, and now is showing signs of reappearing.

The problem is: who shall play college sports? This may seem simple, but its complexities have led to vehement arguments in the past, and are showing signs of doing so again soon.

Old ruling was that a college team could have one non-student for every five registered students, if this was the only way a team could be mustered.

This ruling was swept out of existence a few weeks ago, on the grounds that it was hardly appropriate for a college whose enrollment approaches the 2,000 mark.

With admirable simplicity, a new ruling was promulgated: every student of Victoria College may play on a college team.

This decision was hotly contested, however, by those who pointed out that all kinds of students would thus be eligible for a college team—night school students and such.

Notwithstanding this objection, the Students' Council ruled that if you are a student, you can play. With very few exceptions, every student at the college is happy with this.

There are reports, however, that the college administration or faculty might exercise its power to revoke the student decision.

If faculty ruled that only students registered in the day session and taking at least three courses be allowed to play—and this has been suggested—it would effectively end the ice hockey team, the biggest revenue producers on the college sports scene.

Stars Tangle With Vikings

Players in the Esquimalt Hockey League kick the lid off a new season Friday night and also get a line on Victoria College chances of retaining the league title.

Victoria College Vikings, winners of the championship last season, clash with the EHL all-stars Friday at 8 in the league's first annual all-star game.

All-stars will come from the ranks of Army, Navy and Esquimalt Bruins, the other clubs in the four-team loop.

CANADIAN TOUR TEAM . . .

'A Different Kind of Rugby . . .

LONDON—A touring Canadian rugby team is hoping to show British fans a new kind of playing during a three-month swing through the British Isles.

"You'll see a different kind of rugby, particularly in our ball handling," said Dick Ellis, of Victoria, coach of the 26-man team.

"Canada is so close to the United States that we sort of follow Americans in our passing. We hope to play as wide open and attractive a game as possible."

The Canadians, sponsored by the Rugby Unions of England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales, will play their opening match Saturday at Exeter in Devon. They will have 17 games in all.

The last Canadian team visited Great Britain in 1902. Another tour was arranged in 1939 but the war prevented that.

The average age of the team is 30. Captain D. L. (Buzz) Moore, veteran forward from Vancouver, is 41. British sports writers, who have given the Canadians a warm welcome, were surprised at the age of the amateur players.

Most of the players are from British Columbia. Six are from Ontario, four from Quebec and one from Alberta. Fifteen are Canadian-born. The rest are from Britain, New Zealand, Australia and South Africa.

"We play a weird sort of game," Ellis said. "A little bit of the South African style, a bit of British, and a lot of our own. You must forgive us if we keep giving South African or New Zealand names to the positions and plays."

Ellis admitted Canadians had a lot to learn about rugby and this "cannot be achieved by attempting to match your teams with intensive scrummaging."

But he added: "If we have one asset it is that all our players—forwards and backs—are ball handlers."

Ellis was quick to point out that Canada was a fledgling among Commonwealth rugby playing nations and was perhaps influenced by Canadian and American football.

But the "Yank at Oxford," Peter Dawkins, has proved a big hit with his football-style "torpedo" pass and his long strikes to deep-lying forwards from lineouts is catching on strongly in Britain.

The Guardian summed up the general feeling about the tour by pointing to the "extrovert charm" of Ellis and team captain Buzz Moore, and the obvious "boyishness" of the players.

"It was something one has not previously found in officials from the sterner rugby-playing countries, in particular New Zealand and South Africa," the newspaper said.

"It will not be a national disaster if Canada loses most of their matches," it added soothingly.

The Canadians can't be expected to chalk up many victories—they open against a tough Western Clubs side and include a match against a Welsh under-23 team. They have had only eight days of training together for the first time.

Second School Science Fair To Go for Week

Greater Victoria schools' second science fair will be expanded to one week and will cover all 11 secondary schools in the district, it was revealed Wednesday.

Peter Boldt, chairman of the regional science fair committee, said 50 winning science projects will be displayed throughout the Easter holiday week in April in the Douglas Room of the Hudson's Bay Company store.

The displays will be selected from more than 200 expected to be entered by science groups in the 11 schools.

Last year, the first school science fair was held in the Douglas Room for two days displaying projects from only three of the high schools.

Mr. Boldt said there is hope that financial help from local firms will allow the overall winner of next spring's science fair to go to Toronto for the national school science fair competition in May.

For production of white and red wines, 100 different types of vines are cultivated in the Rhine valley of Germany.

OTTAWA (CP)—Senator Wallace McCutcheon rose for the first time in Parliament Wednesday to defend Prime Minister Diefenbaker's approach at a six-month Commonwealth conference in London.

This new representative of big business on the Conservative cabinet, a minister without portfolio but with much influence, told the Senate that there is "no more unfounded suggestion" than that Mr. Diefenbaker ganged up on the British in London.

What the prime minister did, said Senator McCutcheon, was to express the doubts that he had—"and that we have"—as to the outcome both politically and commercially if the United Kingdom wins entry to the European Common Market.

"What he did was to make perfectly clear that the decision was for the United Kingdom. But he also did what he had been asked to do—and that was present our views upon how far the essential interests of the Commonwealth had been safeguarded because, after all, that was the basis upon which we were told negotiations were being undertaken."

Senator McCutcheon, vice-president of the huge Argus Corporation before he was taken into the cabinet in a post-election shuffle, obviously had the Senate's Liberal majority in mind when he told his colleagues:

"The obligation of the Senate is to speak to the question and not to the electorate."

In the Commons, the throne speech debate—due to end tonight with a crucial vote at 9:45 p.m. EDT—continued.

Among the kernels from the Commons:

Works Minister Fulton said he has called for studies in three fields—the provision of housing for the physically handicapped; loans toward university residences for married couples; and the further application of federal loans for sewage disposal projects.

Resources Minister Dinsdale said a large exposure of oil-saturated sand, somewhat like the famous Athabasca oil sands in northern Alberta, has been located on the northwestern corner of Melville Island in the Arctic, about 1,450 miles north of Edmonton. The exposed portion runs for about 60 miles and is about 60 to 80 feet deep.

Arthur Laing (L.-Vancouver South), calling for "freer and freer trade," said the Liberal concept is that goods are naturally wanted the world over by human beings and that "the freer the movement of these goods the better it is for all mankind."

In the Senate, Liberal contentions that investors have lost confidence in Canada also were challenged by Senator McCutcheon.

Senator McCutcheon said a good gauge of that confidence is the government's mid-September private sale of $250,000,000 in long-term bonds to seven United States insurance companies, all of them "seasoned and sophisticated investors."

New Hospital For Cowichan 'Top Priority'

DUNCAN — An 11-member delegation from Cowichan District Hospital Association has been assured by Health Minister Eric Martin that delay in processing plans for the district's proposed $3,655,600 hospital was not caused by the current Canadian austerity program.

Administrative pressures experienced by BCHIS in recent months were given as the chief reason approval had not been forthcoming for a start on working drawings. These pressures, he said, were to a great extent the result of certain wage negotiations going to an arbitration board and its decision was delayed for several months. As a result it was impossible for hospitals to submit their operating budgets to BCHIS at the recognized time.

Donald Cox, deputy minister of hospital insurance, and Mr. Martin indicated that action on the plans could be expected soon.

AGAINST POLICY

"It is not my policy to hold up any needed project," said Mr. Martin. "Your hospital received approval in principle in 1952 and there has not yet been one withdrawal of such approval by the service."

"As far as I know," Mr. Martin remarked, "your hospital has top priority."

As soon as BCHIS has sanctioned pre-construction estimates of operating costs for the projected hospital, the minister said, he will recommend approval by treasury. He added that capital funds for it had moved forward from year to year.

Committee To Prepare Bus Rules

COURTENAY — A joint committee of school authorities, bus drivers and police will be formed here to improve school transportation safety.

Preliminary discussion between trustees, principals and drivers brought agreement a committee is needed to look into pupil behavior on buses and traffic hazards on highways.

Opinion was divided on pupils crossing roads before or after buses leave stopping points.

Drivers were critical of the present system of children crossing before buses drive away because too many cars are not stopping behind buses as the law requires, they said.

It was agreed school bus drivers should begin immediately taking licence numbers of cars that pass stopped buses.

PREPARE RULES

The new committee will be asked to draw up rules for behavior of children on buses and to define areas of responsibility for enforcement of safety by bus drivers, principals, trustees, and police.

Seven members will represent the four areas of responsibility and include the superintendent of schools and a member from the bus contracting company.

Investigation into school bus problems first began some weeks ago when police reported a car driver had complained a pop bottle was thrown from a bus ahead of him.

Bus drivers also have complained about noisy behavior, scuffling and breaking of bus windows on some routes.

Board chairman James Simon said investigation showed the complaints were isolated cases.

Night School Enrolment On Increase

COURTENAY — Enrolment in district night school classes has increased 50 per cent over last year and twice as many classes are being held, it was announced by the school board this week.

A total of 656 adults had signed up by the end of first week. Thirty-four classes are operating and four more start Monday, director Harry Harris said.

Most popular classes are ballroom dancing with 96 pupils, sewing with 93, math for parents, 75, and typing 56.

Many classes are filled to capacity but vacancies still occur in several others, he said. Scuba diving starts Nov. 13. Voice training, photography and lapidary will be offered if instructors can be found, Mr. Harris said.

$8 Million Plant Set For Nanaimo

NANAIMO (CP)—Work will start within the next few months on an $8,000,000 chemical plant south of here.

James G. Baldwin, vice-president of Hooker Chemicals Ltd., Tacoma, Wash., announced this week that his company had acquired 13 acres of land adjacent to a pulp mill as the construction site.

Construction is expected to take 16 months with peak employment of about 160 men.

The plant will produce chlorine gas and caustic soda, both of which are required in the manufacture of pulp and paper.

GANGES—A bylaw referendum to build a gymnasium, auditorium and science room at Ganges School received only 53 per cent of the required 60 per cent majority.

First count of the vote, said to be the largest on record in the Gulf Islands, showed 478 in favor and 398 against. A strong affirmative vote was cast at Ganges, but Fulford Harbor and the other islands defeated the motion.

DUNCAN—About 800 teachers are expected to attend the spring convention here of South Vancouver Island Teachers' Association.

The convention will be under the sponsorship of the Cowichan District Teachers' Association.

The convention committee is already at work on food, housing, instruction and entertainment problems.

DUNCAN—Thieves broke into Butler Brothers Supplies Ltd. over the holiday weekend, hauled a one-ton safe from the front office to the back, tipped it over on its back and drilled and chiselled it open.

Company officials declined to comment on the amount of the loss.

DUNCAN — City council decided Tuesday night to alter all flashing traffic lights in the Duncan area to red. Council felt that on frequent occasions drivers overlooked the amber signals.

DUNCAN—The Maple Bay Yacht Club held its annual trophy and plaque presentations over the weekend, followed by a dance and social evening, to wind up the year's activities.

Winners included: Mike Stone, "Hyak," Sail Stretch Plaque; John Hutchinson, "Vega," Roome Cup; Dr. Coleman family, "Hitime," Gooding Challenge Trophy; Eric Qualley, "Rebel," Salt Spring Island Trophy.

Championship races were won by the following: Mike Stone, "Hyak," Lightning Class; John Hutchinson, "Vega," Comet Class; Gordon McEwen, "Ris-K," Snipe Class; Muriel O'Brien, "Alouette," Fox Cup, and Coleman family, "Hitime," Makeup Series.

The junior membership trophy for outstanding club activities was won by Robert Johnson.

DUNCAN — Cowichan Toastmasters Club installed new officers with Eric Calmer, governor of Area One in District One officiating.

Ron Suthern is new president and G. Johnson and J. Gallagher are vice-presidents. M. Cebrowski was elected secretary and Dick Day treasurer. A. Jezerski will be sergeant-at-arms.

NANAIMO (CP) — Garry Ivan Sorley, 19, of Golden pleaded guilty here on two charges of fraud involving $119. He was remanded for sentence.

NANAIMO (CP)—City council has approved the introduction of a leash law here to curb roaming dogs.

A bylaw now requires dogs to be on a leash in the city proper. The new law would require them to be leashed at all times off their home property.

CAMPBELL RIVER—Planned visit of several foreign students was cancelled at the last minute when health authorities and UBC officials refused to let them travel because of investigations on a smallpox suspect.

The students, from 12 foreign countries, will now visit Campbell River the weekend of Oct. 19, 20 and 21, with Rotarians as their hosts.

MUSEUM ITEMS PASSED UP BY THIEVES

CAMPBELL RIVER — The local museum has many artistically and historically valuable articles on display but thieves don't think too much of them.

"We have had three break-ins during the past year," said curator Ed Meade, "but the people doing it couldn't find anything worth carrying away so nothing has been lost."

Licensing Bylaw Passed By Council

NANAIMO (CP) — A new commercial vehicle licensing bylaw has passed all three readings in council here.

It will place licensing of all commercial vehicles in the hands of the provincial government with repayment to the municipality on a per capita basis.

At present companies operating commercial vehicles pay licence fees in each municipality through which they operate.

Vehicles which carry commercial plates, such as farm vehicles, but which are not strictly for commercial carrying purposes will be required to get exemption plates.

The Motor Vehicle Act requires that the bylaw be passed by council prior to the end of November. This applies to all municipalities wishing to participate in the new method of uniform licence collection fees, set up at the last session of the legislature.

LADY AGGRESSOR broke to inside when start came, causing jam a few yards out, then was driven to top and was never threatened. KIM HILL, well out at the start, gained steadily in final stages but could not overtake winner. WONDER ROLL had to ease up at start, was out early, then moved up strongly in final quarter. ARMED LEAF also suffered from being shut off after break and could never move up to challenge. JOHNNY CANUCK moved up going down backstretch but could not keep up in last eighth. MACIANE could never reach contention. BEN'S BEAU had some early speed but was through after a half. Overweight—Lady Aggressor (2).

KEATS ISLAND, quickly in stride, took over at once, opened up good lead on field and held it all the way. FORGER, running evenly back of leaders, made up some ground in stretch but could not take over. ORINDA was closing well but could not pick up leaders in time. MISS CONSIDER was unable to get within striking distance. STAR'S BROTHER forced early pace but stopped in last eighth. FREE GLORY never appeared dangerous. Overweight—Miss Consider (2), FREE GLORY never appeared dangerous.

Towel Matched Paper at Blaze

(Compiled from CP)

NEW WESTMINSTER — A Crown witness testified Wednesday that torn pieces of paper towelling found in the offices of the McCorkle Brothers Logging Company fitted the jagged edges of towelling found at the scene of a forest fire north of Boston Bar in August, 1961.

Alfred Stewart McCorkle, head of the firm is charged with arson in connection with the forest blaze at Squawmum Creek where his company was carrying out logging operations at the time.

An RCMP witness told Assize Court of finding pieces of green-blue paper towelling and an empty whisky bottle at the company's offices.

RCMP Cpl. W. D. Luelo, an identification expert, said the torn jagged edges of the towelling fitted perfectly with the edges of similar paper the crown says was found at the scene of the fire.

Insurance adjustor Milner Naysmith testified that McCorkle told him the company was not making any claim for loss of timber in the fire, that "as far as I'm concerned there's no insurance policy." This was several days after the fire.

MATSQUI—Mary Wnuk, 16, died Wednesday night when she fell from her bicycle in the path of an oncoming car while on her way to a nearby store.

VANCOUVER—Prosecutor William Selbie said Wednesday that Walter Peter Vanjoff, 36, has been found fit to stand trial on a charge of capital murder in connection with the shooting death of longshoreman Sidney Kovish, 26.

A psychiatric examination was ordered last week for Vanjoff.

Kovish was killed by a man who fired two shots at him from a rifle as he was quitting work for the day at the United Grain Growers dock here.

VANCOUVER—Campaigning in the Burnaby-Coquitlam federal by-election has burst open in earnest, revealing considerable public interest in the vote.

More than 500 persons jammed a high school auditorium in nearby Port Coquitlam Wednesday night for an all-candidates meeting. Parking facilities were plugged for half a mile in all directions from the school.

NELSON—Nick B. Sapriken of Glade, B.C., Wednesday was sentenced to seven years imprisonment on conviction of setting an explosive substance at a power pole near his home settlement last February.

His sentence will run concurrent with one for a previous conviction.

VANCOUVER—The North American Indian Brotherhood has asked the federal government to intercede in a dispute over a large jade deposit near Lillooet.

Chief George Manuel of Chase, president of the brotherhood, says it doesn't feel the provincial government has the right to rule on whether a river bed in question belongs to the Bridge River Indian Reserve No. 1.

"As Indian reserve land is held in trust by the federal government, we ask that the federal government protect our interests, as this matter could develop into a very dangerous precedent if nothing is done," Chief Manuel said.

The dispute arose when Gladys Cox of Chilliwack and a number of associates from the Fraser Valley and Vancouver Island filed applications this spring for placer mining leases on the river bed.

The leases were refused on the grounds the river bed belongs to the Indians. The applicants subsequently appealed.

Mines Minister Kiernan held a quasi-judicial public hearing on the matter last month under the Placer Mining Act. His decision on whether the provincial government or the Indians own the land is expected to be handed down late this month. Deadline for his acceptance of written argument is Oct. 24.

UNITED APPEAL TOTAL PASSES 40 PER CENT

Greater Victoria's United Appeal jumped past the 40 per cent mark today with a new total of $145,622. As division chairmen are in the throes of cleaning up their respective campaign divisions prior to the residential canvass beginning Monday, Appeal officials are anticipating big returns at Friday's weekly report luncheon. The downtown information booth will close Saturday, but persons wishing to make donations can do so at the Yates and Douglas branch of the Bank of Montreal.

ARTHUR MAYSE

One day last week, the manager of a local meat department uttered words which are still being quoted with sniffs, sneers and outright snorts of wrath in kitchens throughout the town.

Commenting on the price of beef, which has mounted steadily since a devaluated Canadian dollar provided an attractive market for American buyers, he admitted there'd been an initial squawk or two from the housewives.

"But," he added blandly, "now they don't even remember what the price used to be."

Oh, brother! Maybe his wife doesn't remember. But as a longtime trundler of grocery carts, let me assure him that mine does, you bet!

Or maybe the poor deluded fellow isn't married, in which case his knowledge of the female psyche wouldn't cover the way women react when the price of hamburger—not even ground round steak, mind, but just plain old dogmeat hamburger—jumps as much as two cents.

A stroll on the other side of his counter would teach him quick. So would a couple of dozen marked-down sirloins tumbled into the bargain bin, provided he got out of the way in time.

I don't propose to offer without support my contention that the sight of over-priced meat brings out the tiger in women. What I'm going to do is flip open a phone book, dial a few numbers, and at the risk of a thick ear let this Polyantha of the block and clever learn just how well aware Mrs. Victoria is that the price of beef has gone up...

For a start, here's Mrs. John G. Watson of 4078 Cedar Hill Road.

"Oh my goodness," says Mrs. Watson, "that man couldn't be farther off the track! I know, and I'm sure most wives know practically to the penny how much the family groceries cost each week.

"These last two months, meat prices have climbed out of all proportion. It's bad enough for an employed family, but how people out of work and with children are getting along, or the old age pensioners, I can't even imagine."

Next number belongs to Mrs. William C. Weeks of 4306 Glenford, who agrees that our butcher chum is singing off the wrong page. "Who says we don't remember?" Mrs. Weeks challenges. "I can tell you right off that hamburger used to be 49 cents a pound, and that last time I bought any, the price was up to 53 cents."

"As for roast prices," she adds with feeling, "I'd just as soon not talk about them!"

Instant support comes from Mrs. E. C. Phillips of 273 Belmont, who states firmly that she and every other housewife of her acquaintance has a memory like an elephant for meat prices of then and now. But since Mrs. Phillips buys her family's meat in three-month lots for her freezer, we ought in fairness to try another number.

Mrs. William D. Osborne is the next wife whose morning we'll ruin with the prickly question.

"That man," says Mrs. Osborne, who rules the kitchen at 2576 Sea View Road, "has got holes in his head. Of course I remember!"

"A few months ago, a sirloin roast sold for $1.01 a pound. Now it's about $1.20. Ground round steak was 79 or 80 cents. It's about 93 cents now."

"No one, or hardly any of us, can disregard the price of meat. After all, it's one of the major items in a family's food budget. I certainly keep track of it, and unless she gets hers free, you can be sure that butcher's wife does, too."

Russian Vessel 'Passes Through'

A Russian government research vessel picked up pilots off Dallas Road at 5 a.m. today, inbound for Vancouver.

She is the 167-foot, 333-ton, three-masted schooner Zarja, listed in Lloyd's Registry as a wooden auxiliary research vessel operated by the U.S.S.R.

Naval intelligence at Esquimalt said the vessel requested two pilots, who went aboard from the B.C. Pilotage launch this morning. The navy said the Zarja had been cleared for entry into Canadian waters, and to a Canadian port.

It is believed the vessel has been engaged in fisheries research in the Pacific.

Jaycees Seeking New Members

Major city businesses and corporations will be asked to sponsor eligible employees for membership in the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce during a November membership drive.

Plans for financing the drive were announced during the presentation of the 1962-63 budget Wednesday night.

Projects included in the $13,000 budget are financing of the provincial finals of the teen-age rodeo to be held here next year, annual Christmas lighting contest among house owners, get-out-and-vote campaign and various community clean up campaigns.

Mrs. W. T. Straith Dies After Lengthy Illness

Death came this morning, after an illness of several months, to Mrs. William T. (Maie) Straith, 2768 Satellite Street, wife of the well-known city lawyer and former British Columbia minister of education in the Coalition government.

Mrs. Straith was born in Whitewood, Sask., and had lived in Victoria for the past 48 years. During her long life, she was honored with Mr. Straith among long-time members.

This summer she accompanied her husband on one of her several trips overseas and it was after her return that she became seriously ill.

She leaves her husband, at home; two daughters, Mrs. G. J. (Mary) Laurie, Victoria; and Mrs. R. A. (Janet) Stuart, Vancouver, also six grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Robert (Maudie) Buchan, Victoria.

Funeral and committal services will be held at First United Church on Monday at 3 p.m., with Rev. A. I. Higgins officiating. Arrangements are in charge of Sands Mortuary.

AFFECTION city police hold for policewoman Alice K. Pye, retiring after 25 years, was expressed Wednesday night at reception. Const. Louis Truesdale, rookie of force, presented Miss Pye with gold-plated badge, camera, Dresden china, and cheque from police benevolent fund, before police officials and members, court officers, and other legal representatives. ## City Hall Hits Back At Trustees' Move

City Hall officials today hit back at a school trustees' bid to deny civic governments an appeal against extravagance by school boards.

Both Mayor R. B. Wilson and Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow were critical of a resolution to be discussed by the B.C. School Trustees' Association convention here next week.

The resolution urges abolition of the present right of municipal councils to seek arbitration of some items in school board budgets if they believe them to be extravagant.

"Nobody should be afraid of arbitration," said Mayor Wilson.

"It would be most unfair if the people providing the money should have no rights whatever."

Juveniles Caught In Burglary

Several juveniles have been arrested in connection with a break-in Tuesday night at Duff-Mackay Equipment Ltd.

The youths gained entrance through a ventilator window in the roof of the United Engineering Building.

They climbed over a partition into the office and took $30 from a cash box.

GIANT UKRAINIAN ON STAGE TONIGHT

Singer Prefers Honor to Millions

By DESMOND BILL

Ukrainian singer Dmitro Hnatiuk, who will give a concert at Royal Theatre tonight, says he would rather be a "People's Artist of the U.S.S.R." than a millionaire. The enormously built singer—he stands 6'3" tall and weighs about 250 pounds—says there is not a chance he will become a millionaire anyway.

And this is just as well. It would be bad for his ego to have that much money, he says.

According to him, "any entertainer who thinks he is better than ordinary people is not an artist."

The 37-year-old baritone, one of the world's great baritones, lives a spartan life.

LIGHT EATER

Despite his size he does not eat much. He does not smoke nor drink and is rarely even to stay in the same room with someone who is smoking.

If he does not get eight hours of sleep a night and one before a concert it affects his performance. And he loses several pounds after every concert from "nerves and emotion."

Singing is his life. But before he decided on a musical career he was a steel worker, a farmer and a teacher.

Then, he says, "I began to take life seriously. I always wanted to sing. When my voice developed I decided that I should enter the conservatory."

His career has taken him from a peasant family in the Ukraine to the position of "People's Artist of the U.S.S.R." In recent months he visited India, Australia, Africa and Western Europe.

He will appear in 10 more Canadian cities after his concert tonight.

His visit to Canada is one-half of a cultural exchange which has taken Toronto folk singers, The Travellers, to the Soviet Union.

In Edmonton Mr. Hnatiuk met his sister Anna whom he had not seen for 28 years.

He was only nine years old when she left for America to marry.

When she was 14, a young Canadian traveller visited the Hnatiuk family in the Ukraine. When he left he corresponded trying to coax Anna to marry him and obtain the permission of her parents to the marriage.

After five years of writing he succeeded.

His sister is accompanying Mr. Hnatiuk on his tour but she stayed in Vancouver and did not come with him to Victoria. She is not a singer. Of the five children in the family, Dmitro was the only one with musical ability.

VICTORIA, B.C., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1962—PAGE 17

'Bennett Fleet' Gets New Ships

Two New 'Queens' Will Be Built

Premier Bennett today announced plans to build two big new ferries for the government's Island-Mainland services.

He will have eight full-size ferries in his fleet by summer, 1964.

The premier also announced plans for a big shuffle of existing ferries this winter.

The two new ships—costing about $3,500,000 each—will be built next year and in service for the 1964 summer season, which the premier predicted will be an all-time record tour-ist year for B.C.

FILLING CPR GAP

He plans to put four big vessels on the Nanaimo-Horseshoe Bay service filling the gap left by CPR's cutdown this fall.

Mr. Bennett also announced that two ferries now being built at Victoria Machinery Depot will be named Queen of Saanich and Queen of Esquimalt.

First will be launched next month; the other in January. Both will go on the Swartz Bay-Tsawwassen service next summer, he said.

Another new ferry being built for the Gulf Islands will be launched next July.

Meanwhile, first step in the big ship shuffle will come Nov. 1 when the Nanaimo and Swartz Bay ferry services will be cut to two vessels.

GOODBYE KAHOLOKE

On Jan. 2 next year the former Black Ball vessel Kahloke will be sent to the "Sunshine Coast" service, between Horseshoe Bay and Langdale.

This summer it has run between Vancouver Island and the mainland.

Mr. Bennett said the Toll Authority will spend $200,000 on new wharf facilities at Langdale.

Business on the "Sunshine Coast" this summer has proved "just enormous," said Mr. Bennett.

Next shuffle will come in the summer of 1963 when the Nanaimo-Horseshoe Bay service will have three ferries.

Sidney, Tsawwassen and Chinook.

GOODBYE CHINOOK

Then in 1964 Saanich and Esquimalt will join the fleet and Chinook will be sent to the "Sunshine Coast" with Kahloke.

Swartz Bay and Nanaimo will then both have hourly service to the mainland.

"This will be a fleet all British Columbians should be proud of."

Canada, U.S. Anti-Sub Exercise

Surface, air and undersea units of the Canadian and United States navies commenced a week-long anti-submarine exercise in B.C. coastal waters this morning.

The RCN submarine HMCS Grilse and a submarine from the U.S. base at Pearl Harbor are attempting to evade the hunt-kill tactics of surface units from Esquimalt, RCAF maritime patrol aircraft from RCAF base, Comox, and USN aircraft from Whidbey Island.

Eleven Pacific Command ships are taking part.

SHINING BEAUTY of this costume worn by pretty Rosabelle Yuen, will dazzle spectators at the centennial Chinese pageant which is to be part of the 7th annual Lantern Festival staged by Victoria Chinatown Lions Club at the Sirocco, Oct. 24, from 2 to 5 and 7 to 11 p.m. The eight-piece costume, to be seen in Victoria for the first time, represents the "Goddess of the Moon." Six door prizes will be drawn. Proceeds are to go to Lions' charities.

Forgery Attempted 'To Fool Communists'

A Victoria Chinese, who is charged with trying to obtain forged documents for the release of his wife's relatives from Communist China, is alleged to have told an RCMP constable here:

"I cannot see what difference it makes, because it is against the Communists and does not harm anyone."

The statement was read in B.C. Assize Court Wednesday afternoon during the trial of Peter Chong of 817 Kings Road, accused of attempting to persuade Victoria printing firm officials to help him in an "immigration swindle."

Constable Gerald Whittaker said he questioned Chong at his home. Chong admitted he had asked representatives of local printing firms to print facsimiles of Immigration Department letterheads.

SEND LETTERHEADS

The constable on oath gave this account of the interview which followed:

Chong told him he wanted to send the letterheads to his mother-in-law in Hong Kong so she could get her family out of Communist China.

"Where did you get the idea?" the constable asked. Chong: "I heard a lot of people were doing this to get their relatives out of Communist China... everyone is doing this. This is being done by many persons living in Victoria."

"I cannot see what difference it makes because it is against the Communists and does not harm anyone."

FOOL COMMUNISTS Constable Whittaker said Chong told him his mother-in-law in Hong Kong suggested he get the official letterheads in Victoria to "fool the Communist government."

"Who was going to complete these letterheads?" the constable asked.

"I was," Chong replied. "Who was going to supply the information?"

"My mother-in-law in Hong Kong."

Constable Whittaker said he then asked Chong what he would do with the 500 letterheads he wanted to order. Chong gave no answer to this question but later said:

"The idea was to bring my wife's relatives from Communist China to Hong Kong."

HAD PASSPORT

Constable Whittaker said Chong told him he had obtained a Canadian passport himself some time ago.

The 12-man jury hearing the charges against Chong had to leave the court for nearly two hours Wednesday while lawyers debated whether Constable Whittaker's evidence was admissible.

Joseph McKenna, QC, who is defending Chong, argued that his statements to the constable were made in an atmosphere of "fear."

Crown prosecutor Berkeley Monteith denied this. He said Constable Whittaker interviewed Chong in his own home and cautioned him, both in English and Chinese, that anything he said might be used as evidence.

Mr. Justice R. A. Wootton ruled that the constable's evidence was admissible and the jury was recalled.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Grand Factor Howard MacInrot and Grand Secretary W. Greenwood will pay an official visit to the Native Sons of British Columbia, Post No. 1 at the lodge's Monday meeting, 8 p.m. at the Craigflower museum.

Eric Still, 545 Johnson, was fined $10 Wednesday for being intoxicated and ordered to put up a $250 bond that he will be of good behavior for 12 months.

The bond was required after he admitted in city police court to smashing a basement window at his wife's home. Last week he was fined $75 on a charge of wilful damage in which he smashed windows in a car belonging to a friend of his wife.

Monthly meeting and mixed social of the ex-Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers will be held Saturday, 8:30 p.m. at the Bay Street Armory. Prospective new members can obtain further information by phoning Ray Wainwright at EV-4-8879 or Darrel Pringle at EV-3-8665.

Gordon R. Lee, reeve of Saanich and president of the Sourdough Club of Victoria, will be among those celebrating the 61st anniversary of the Klondike gold rush at a get-together in Santa Barbara Oct. 18 to 21.

"Alaska Today" and the "1962 Dawson Festival" will be convention themes.

Victor M. Nugent, 351 Green Street, was sentenced to 15 days in jail Wednesday for driving while his licence was suspended.

City prosecutor Angus Smith told Magistrate J. A. Byers that Nugent was convicted for a similar offence just over a year ago.

Rear-Admiral E. W. Finch-Noyes, flag officer, Pacific coast, returned to his office today after convalescing from an illness which will result in his retirement from the service.

He will turn over command to Rear-Admiral W. B. Landymore at change of command ceremonies Oct. 31. Rear-Admiral Finch-Noyes will continue to live in Victoria.

Students at Gordon Head Junior High School are deliberately causing trouble for motorists, police have been told.

Saanich police are looking into complaints that the youths deliberately impede motorists on Gordon Head Road, near Arbutus, by walking five abreast.

A complainant said the students "defy" motorists. The incidents are reported to be of daily occurrence.

The rafters should ring to night at 8 in Prospect Lake School.

Saanich Reeve Stanley Murphy will debate the controversial amalgamation question with Coun. Joseph Casey. A referendum will be held on the issue in December.

The debate is sponsored by the Prospect Lake Community Association and will be chaired by the president of the group, Brian Hoole.

Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. George Pearkes were to attend a city council meeting today to see a film showing renovation of a downtown street in Norwich, England, not far from

Mrs. Pearkes' native home. The same film will be shown to the public tonight at 8:15 in city council chambers.

Forgotten Anything? Use Magnetic Reminder Clip

By PENNY SAVER

No more need to tie a string around your finger as a reminder to pick up a loaf of bread on the way home. Use a magnetic clip instead. This is nothing more than an old-fashioned paper clip with a magnet attached to one side, and costs only 60 cents.

At home you can place your reminder on the fridge, the stove, on the medicine chest or maybe on a light switch as a reminder to wake Joe.

In the car the magnet will hold memos on the dash board, or maybe it is a map that you would like kept in front of you while you are travelling.

For husbands it is ideal for a locker. When you go to pick up your hat, a sign reading one quart of milk, may mean that you will receive a warmer welcome when you reach home.

Students who do not own a study stand will be interested in the new combination study stand and binder for $1.50.

The binder comes in blue, green or tan vinyl plastic. When you want to use it as a study stand, snap back the bottom portion of the binder and there it is standing in front of you ready to be perused.

The regular study stands are available at $2.49. These metal collapsible frames can be used to hold newspapers at the table, text books on your desk or recipes on the kitchen shelf.

If the print on this page seems to be getting smaller these days you need a new style magnifier. The new magnifier is an elongated shape and fits into a small case like that of a pocket comb. Focusing is not necessary. Place the magnifier on the print and slide it along the page. It doubles the size without distortion and is so quick and easy to use. The price is $1.98.

Make this the last day to tie a string around your finger as a reminder to phone Penny at 382-3131 for the name of the store.

WHY GROW OLD?

Some Women Want to Reduce Bust Size—And They Can Too

So many women wish to increase the size of their bust that it may come as a surprise to you that there are women who want to reduce their bust. If the woman is overweight a loss of pounds will make her bust smaller.

A very large bust can be unattractive and a real burden. The weight of extremely large breasts may cause the bra straps to cut into the shoulders so that padding is needed. Arthritis of the shoulders is sometimes blamed on an overly large bust.

The following exercise will aid in reduction. Stand erect. Bend forward from your waist until your trunk is at right angles to your legs. Let your arms drop down limply. Now raise the arms sideways, upward and pull back hard. Again let the arms drop down toward the floor limply. Continue.

It is never too soon to begin working on the inner thigh because this spot easily becomes flabby. Exercise is absolutely the only way to avoid it. Here are a couple of exercises.

Stand with your left side toward the wall and your left hand on the wall for balance. Bend your right knee up in front of you, upper leg at right angles to lower leg. Swing the right leg out to the right (knee still bent). Swing it back. Continue. After a few times do the same thing with the left leg, right hand on the wall, right side toward wall.

"Dear Mrs. Farmer: I am lining a dressy suit with brocade fabric but it looks too stiff inside the sleeves. Would it be all right to use a plain lining in the sleeves or would it look home made?"

Mrs. R.R.E.

Dear Mrs. R.R.E.: I am glad you noticed the stiff appearance of this type of lining in them. Any type of lining that is used must be less than the garment fabric. If you are using a heavy satin or brocade for lining your garment, use a crepe or China silk for the sleeve lining.

DEAR ABBY

She's Nettled by the Needle!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our 19-year-old son has just come home on a 30-day leave after spending 26 months in the navy. We almost fainted when we saw him. This handsome, 6 ft. 2 in. boy of ours is tattooed like a circus freak. Both his arms, from his shoulders down to his wrists, are covered with flags, scrolls, snakes, mottoes and initials. Even the backs of his hands and fingers are decorated. And to cap it off, each ear lobe has a flower on it! He is the talk of the town. Needless to say, he has received a very cool reception from all his old friends. Long-sleeved shirts can cover his arms, but he can't hide his fingers and ear lobes.

He realizes now it was a foolish mistake, and wants to remove the tattoos as soon as possible. Can it be done? We will pay whatever it costs, and will send him anywhere to have it done.

MOTHER'S PLEA

DEAR MOTHER: Consult a dermatologist (skin specialist) for information on removing tattoos. I'm afraid your son is in for some more needling.

DEAR ABBY: My wife wants to go to work and I do not want her to. I have a good job and am able to provide her with a very good living, but it doesn't appear to be enough. She wants so many things that our budget will not allow, and thinks if she goes to work she can have more clothes, a better car, etc. We have three children who need

IT'S A STORY

Nigerians Live High In Lagos

By PAT DUFOUR

When we think of Nigeria and other parts of Africa we tend to dwell on the sterner aspects of life. But, after chatting with Mrs. Agnes McGregor, who has just completed eight years in the Nigerian capital of Lagos with the British Broadcasting Corporation, one's imagination is caught with her light-hearted picture of Nigerian suburbia.

Her home was on a five-mile island named Ikoyi, which she describes as the "Uplands" of Lagos.

Homes had to be of a set standard. Most averaged about $100,000 and belonged to ministers of the newly independent country.

She tells of the time that Queen Elizabeth was slated to visit Nigeria in 1956. Government House, where she was to stay, was without air conditioning so a unit was ordered from England.

It arrived two days before the royal party was expected. It was installed and left to run for a 12-hour trial during the first night.

A FREEZE-UP

Opening the doors of the royal suite next morning, the staff were taken aback when they saw solidly frozen icicles hanging from the ceiling! Needless to say, the necessary adjustment was made before the royal occupant took over.

As in Victoria, Government House garden parties were the social highlight of the year. "In fact," says Mrs. McGregor, "it's the only time we wore stockings and hats."

Amazingly enough, sun glasses are worn mostly by the Nigerians. "My messenger," Mrs. McGregor reminisces, "sporting a very fancy pair with the most ornate frames imaginable. Like many others, he wore no lenses with them!"

The middle class Nigerian family will often live in one room, perfectly happy if they can also own a big car.

Working mothers are not uncommon, even in the lower brackets. Many mothers, when their husbands hire out to work, have their source of revenue in "mammy shacks" that can be seen on many streets.

'CLEVEE' MAMMIES

These are one-woman stalls, where you can buy cigarettes. "Mind you," she warns, "if you're not careful, they'll steal yours and sell them right back to you!"

The men quite often take over the sewing chores of the family. It's routine to find the man of the house whipping up a new dress for a wife or daughter and trying his skill at making slippers for everyone.

Lagos also sports its own yacht club with a fleet of sail boats called Tarpons, Nigerian version of a Lightning.

"They brought up the teak hull of a ship that was wrecked about 10 years ago, sent to the United States for plans and built a fleet of Tarpons from the salvaged wood."

After a visit with her uncle and aunt, Col. and Mrs. G. S. Bagot, Mrs. McGregor will head for Australia where she will make her home with her mother.

But it will be a long time before she forgets her eight years in a Nigerian suburb.

Ladies' apparel store requires manager and buyer of popular-priced merchandise. State age (must be under 35), references, educational training and wage expected, to Victoria Press, Box 237.

Moore and another sister, Miss Maisie Miller, all of Winnipeg, Man. The visitors' trip was timed so that they would be here to celebrate the Millers' 22nd wedding anniversary last weekend. They returned to the prairies today.

Entertain Choir

The Richmond Avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gregory will be scene of a party this evening for senior choir members of First United Church. Mr. Gregory is the church's choir master.

Motor West

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Gilroy of South Mountain, Ont., motored west to spend a few weeks with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Holmes, who have recently moved to Victoria from Toronto. They are staying at Fairways Apartments on Hobbs Road.

Wives of delegates attending a convention of the western association of Canadian Highway officials in Victoria this week were delighted to find that a tea at Government House, Wednesday afternoon, was included in their social itinerary. Seen in conversation with their hostess, Mrs. George R. Pearkes, centre, at the gathering are two of the visitors, left; Mrs. George Kent, Vanderhoof, B.C., and Mrs. Myrtle Swanson, Regina, Sask. Many hundreds of out-of-town guests have been entertained through such gatherings for visiting delegates and their wives during the regime of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Pearkes.

Carol Wootton Gives Haskil Story

Renowned European pianist Clara Haskil was brought to life at a meeting of Victoria Branch of the Toronto Conservatory Alumni, Wednesday evening at the Rockland Avenue home of Mrs. T. W. A. Gray, when Miss Carol Wootton told something of her brilliant career.

"Clara Haskil was not beautiful, nor was she strong," Miss

One of the busiest committees in Victoria this week is the group planning the annual dance of the Alumnae Association of the University of British Columbia in Victoria College gymnasium on the Cordova Head campus Friday evening. Seen going over plans for the dance, which will be in a Spanish theme, are, from the left, Mr. R. Gray, president; the Misses Maureen Elder and Constance Holmes, Mr. David Ferne and Mr. John Hicks. Adele Gault Lewis, seated, will give a program of songs from "Carmen" during the evening.

Speaker Shares World Travels

A freighter trip from London to Yokohama with all the fascination of seeing new peoples and new places was vividly described by Miss Maimie Simpson, retired dean of women in University of Alberta at meeting of the Women's Canadian Club, Wednesday afternoon in the Empress Hotel.

The voyage, woven into a fascinating story, "We Were Gypsy Wanderers," by the speaker, was accompanied by color slides.

Miss Simpson added extra interest and charm by giving a brief resume of a visit to Ireland during the course of the world tour of more than a year.

"I love Ireland," she said in her soft lilting voice, "I cannot help it... you see I was born there." Responsive applause made it evident many others in the audience were also "born there."

The speaker was introduced by the club president, Mrs. E. M. Corbett, and thanked by the second vice-president, Mrs. H. H. Youson.

Following the meeting executive members entertained at tea in the Palm Room of the hotel in honor of Miss Simpson, the projectionist Morris Rockwood, Mrs. Rockwood, and Miss May Sutcliffe, Miss Simpson's house guest from Edmonton.

Mrs. R. G. McKee and Mrs. H. S. Forse presided at the tea table, and others present were Mrs. Corbett, Miss Kathleen Agnew, Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Dr. Margaret Newton, Miss E. L. Forbes, Mrs. Youson, Mrs. D. L. Macdonell, Mrs. J. H. Howard, Mrs. H. S. Grove, Mrs. John H. Brown, Mrs. W. A.

Candlelit Ceremony

Miss Pamela June Elliott, matching picture hats of net daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Elliott, 3339 Glasgow Avenue, exchanged marriage vows with 28 Edward Charles Beecroft, RCN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Beecroft, 201 Battleford Avenue in a recent ceremony in First United Church.

White gladioli, yellow chrysanthemums and lighted candles decorated the church. Rev. A. I. Higgins heard the marriage vows. Organist was Mrs. W. H. Gregory and soloist Miss Irene Harris sang "The Wedding Prayer."

CLASSIC GOWN

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a classic floor-length gown of pure silk taffeta. Bodice was styled on Empire lines and featured a sweetheart neckline enhanced with iridescent sequins and rhinestones on appliques of guipure lace. The full skirt, posed over a hoop, extended into a train. A chapel veil of silk illusion net misted from a jewel encrusted coronet. Only jewelry worn was a culture pearl pendant and earrings, gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and pink rapture roses.

Attendants all wore identically styled dresses of net over taffeta in princess lines, with decorated with self fabric roses. They carried fan-shaped bouquets of apricot roses and yellow carnations.

Matron of honor, Betty Beecroft, and junior bridesmaid, Miss Lorraine Bridges, were in apricot shaded gowns; bridesmaids, Miss Dona McGary and Miss Gloria Porter wore aqua colored dresses. Petite flower girls Misses Darleen and Dale Young wore matching dresses of aqua net over taffeta.

WITH GROOM

George Beecroft, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Douglas Fieldhouse and Peter Bridgwood.

Uncle of the bride, J. D. McGary, proposed the toast at a reception in Holyrood House. Set in a circle of pink rapture roses, the wedding cake centred the bride's table. Baskets of yellow and white chrysanthemums and yellow carnations on the guest tables completed the decor in the candlelit room.

Leaving on a honeymoon trip to Seattle and the mainland of British Columbia, the bride donned a turquoise plaid dressmaker suit, matching feather hat and gloves and black accessories.

Newlyweds will be making their home in Halifax.

The engagement has been announced of Jo Ann Longbottom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Longbottom of Victoria, and Mr. Wes Morhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Morhart, 930 Fairfield Road. The wedding will take place on Saturday, October 20 at 7 p.m. in St. Andrew's Cathedral with Fr. M. T. O'Connell officiating. Attendants will be

Misses Teresa Leggett, Nancy Mann and Sherry Robinson; Mr. Ed Morhart, Mr. Ron Longbottom and Mr. Howard Sadler. The groom-to-be is well known in the sports field, being the top hill climber in Vancouver Island's motorcycle fraternity. He recently retained his championship title for the fifth year in succession. (Svendson Photos.)

Liberal Women's Forum, Friday at 2 p.m., at head quarters.

Bazaar and tea, Britannia Lodge No. 216, Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association, Saturday, 2 to 4:30 p.m., Orange Hall, 725 Courtney St. Fancy work and home-baking. Door prize.

PAY NOW, STUDY LATER

Trust Assures Full Education

A "pay now—study later" scheme to make the costs of higher education painless for parents was unveiled in Victoria Wednesday.

The scheme was devised by the Canadian School Trust Foundation after a study which showed lack of money, rather than lack of interest, is the main reason more students do not attend university.

Mrs. G. H. Hayes, representative of the foundation in Victoria, said more than 3,000 children have already been enrolled in the scheme since it started one year ago.

She outlined how the scheme is operated. An account is opened with a trust company in the name of any child under eight years of age, and deposits are made over a period varying from 10 to 15 years. Altogether about $200 more than the cost of first-year university education is paid into the account. The interest on the principal goes to the trust.

Money deposited may be withdrawn at any time, and if the child does not go to university the principal is returned in full.

A youth going to university will have the costs of the first year of study paid in full from the account. From then on, if he passes the annual university examinations, his education is free.

The full cost of it—books, fees, lab fees and room and board—is paid by the trust. A student enrolled in the trust will be financially able to attend any accredited university anywhere in the world.

The trust is a non-profit organization with a blue-ribbon directorate of top Canadian educators and businessmen. Children may be enrolled in it by a parent, guardian, organization or interested adult.

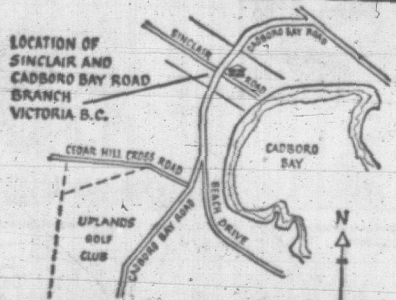

Payments can be made monthly, quarterly or annually as desired. Further details of the scheme may be obtained from Mrs. Hayes at EV 4-5298.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I've been predicting for years now that the worms would turn...

That the guys would be courted and rushed by the girls... that we'd get the perfume, the flowers, even the diamonds. We've seen that trend developing... the diamonds, it's true, most guys my age haven't been getting yet in any abundance.

But there are signs, and the trend is growing. Now, for example, over in England, girls are getting in the habit of fighting over men, just as men used to fight over girls.

A girl in a secretarial pool wrote to a loveletter editor: "A girl in our office is boasting that she is going to take my boy friend away from me. We quarrelled bitterly and now she says she is going to fight me to settle the matter. Should I tell the boy friend before or after the fight?" That's the spirit, girls! I suggest the boy friend be invited to be a spectator. Of course, the girls would be expected to behave just like boys when they fight—the girls would have to flex their muscles, strip to the waist, throw out their never mind, maybe this has gone far enough. Anyway, faint heart ne'er won stout fella.

Gloria Swanson visited the Dr. Paul Niehaus fountain of youth in Switzerland... Polly Bergen and Robert Stack are having some differences about the film, "The Caretakers." Rita Hayworth made a fast recovery from her illness. She played golf at Honesdale, Pa. with Art Wall, Jr., former Masters' champion... Tina Turner's job of singing-while-pregnant at the Copacabana is, to say the least, outstanding... Liz Taylor was so eager to attend Eddie Fisher's big week here that Eddie asked attorney Louis Nizer for advice. Never be too sure yet that she won't show sometime. (One reason for cooling it: Richard Burton was rumored coming, too.) Our "fearless forecast" for is that Juliet Prowse, of those beautiful long legs, will be Broadway's biggest female star after Eddie Fisher's glamorous Winter Garden engagement.

Producers'll want to create shows for her as they did for Mary Martin. Her "Cleopatra" dance number—about the Nymph of the Nile, etc.—will be cheered as this season's greatest spectacular. (And if this forecast is correct, Juliet'll have been justified in insisting to ex-fiance Frank Sinatra that she have a career.)

Jackie Gleason—ecstatic at the high ratings for his TV show and record business for "Gigot"—took a young lady to 21. A woman fan asked for an autograph. "This is my daughter," Jackie said. "Your daughter—ho ho ho!" laughed the fan.

(It was Jackie's daughter, Linda, 20, a student at Catholic University, Washington.)

EARL'S PEARLS: An obese person is just a fat guy with a college education, Harold Coffin, San Francisco Examiner.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: The average husband never worries about who is the boss in his family, but where she is, O. A. Battista.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: An evening of TV convinces us that while the Russians may be ahead of us in rockets, we've got 'em licked in deodorants. Changing Times.

There was this fellow (notes Jack Herbert) who went to watch a tennis match. He had heavy starch in his collar, and sawed his head off. That's earl, brother.

Earl Wilson

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second questioner a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia.

Andy sends a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Richard E. Dunn, 13, of Indianapolis, Ind., and to Betty Jean Frey, 13, of La Grange, Ill., for their question:

What causes a tidal wave?

The tidal wave gets a lot of attention from the world of science. Its secrets are probed by the experts who study earthquakes and unrest in the earth's crust—and by those who study the ocean waters and the deep sea bed. These experts tell us that the true tidal wave is not related to the high and low tides which follow an orderly pattern. It is not, as a rule, related to the wind-tossed waves. This is why they call it by another name.

The watery disaster is known

Water Upset When Floor Shakes

The Pacific lies in a deep basin and when the floor is shaken its waters are upset. You know what happens when you shake a glass of water. If the bottom of the glass suddenly heaved and shook, the water would slop over the sides. On a much grander scale, this is what happens when an earthquake shakes the floor of the ocean. Masses of water pile up like heaving mountains and rush away to dash on some distant shore.

A tsunami is born when an earthquake happens under the sea. In a moment, the warning stations are flashing their signals. In mid-ocean, the sea level may rise a foot or two and ships radio the news. Experts work fast to plot the path of the tsunami for it may be rushing forward at 400 miles an hour. In five hours it may travel from the Aleutians to the Hawaiian Islands.

TEEN-AGE CANADA

New Digit System Makes Maths Fun

By JACK HUTTON

Can you imagine the Canadian teen-ager of the future wearing a computer on his wrist just as many teen-agers now carry transistor radios?

Don't laugh. According to top mathematicians, it's entirely possible that we'll some day be wearing computers for quick calculation.

And if we do, those in the driver's seat will be teen-agers (or former teen-agers) who have taken the trouble to stand on tip-toe and peer at the real mathematics behind their day-to-day homework.

I chatted the other day with several top mathematics teachers from across Canada who told me that one of the most interesting things their students do is to throw away the 10-digit system of numbers.

This can be tried by either adults or teen-agers with one difference: the teen-ager always catches on more quickly.

Spare Time

This is such fun that I suggest you try it in your spare time for one week. Imagine that you are working with a number system that goes up only as far as 7. All you have are 0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

Is there any reason why we should do all our addition and subtraction in terms of the number 10 apart from the fact that we usually have 10 fingers and toes? Advanced mathematicians often forget the 10-digit system, so we can too.

Are you ready? Let's imagine that we're working with a 7-digit system for the moment. How would you add 65 and 34?

Did you say 99? Aha, you're still thinking in terms of a 10-digit system. You immediately thought of 5 plus 4 and 6 plus 3. Or, if one of the groups had exceeded 10, you would have marked down the number exceeding 10 and "carried one."

Let's take 74 plus 59 as an example. Of course, 4 plus 9 add up to 13. But you unconsciously think in groups of 10, so you mark down 3—the difference between 10 and 13—and "carry" the remainder.

7 Figures

Now look at 65 plus 34 again, but this time in a 7-digit system. The numbers 5 plus 4 equal 9, which is 2 more than 7. Therefore, you write 2 at the bottom of the column and "carry" 1.

The "carry-over" changes 6 to 7, and 7 plus 3 equal 10. Now 10 is 3, three more than 7, so you will mark down 3 with a "carry-over" 1 beside it. The answer, therefore, is 132.

Sounds fantastic? Just try adding 74 plus 59 again and notice how you use the idea of 10. Try a few more examples in which the numbers add up to more than 10 and ask yourself exactly what you're doing.

Let's try another with a 7-number system. Remember that everything is divided into 7's and this is the basis of everything. This time add up 62 and 26 (don't peek until you've finished!)

What did we do this time? Well, 2 plus 6 equals 8 which is 1 more than 7. Therefore, we mark down 1 and "carry" the 1 which leaves us 7 plus 2. That leaves us with 9, or 2 with a 1 beside it. The answer is 121.

Crazy? Not really, I think, because doing this gives us a glimpse into the groupings behind all our numbers—or the foundations of algebra, trigonometry or the set theory. I mentioned the wrist computer. That isn't such a crazy idea since computers can work problems out so quickly using only two digits—1 and 0. Ask your math teacher to explain how this works.

Sitting Blues

Sheila McCormick, 15 of Halifax, writes: "When are you going to write something about the problems we baby-sitters have? Or if you already have do it again so a few more adults can read it."

I'm tired of hearing again and again how the baby-sitter is pampered in Canada. Most adults imagine that all we do is stare at a TV set all night, or gab on the telephone in between trips to the icebox.

"Don't they realize that when they mention when they're coming home we believe them? Time and time again my family has become worried because Mr. and Mrs. So-and-so were having too much fun at the party."

"I hope you emphasize, or that someone does, that baby-sitting isn't something anyone can do easily. You have to have a certain understanding of children to start off, or you're lost."

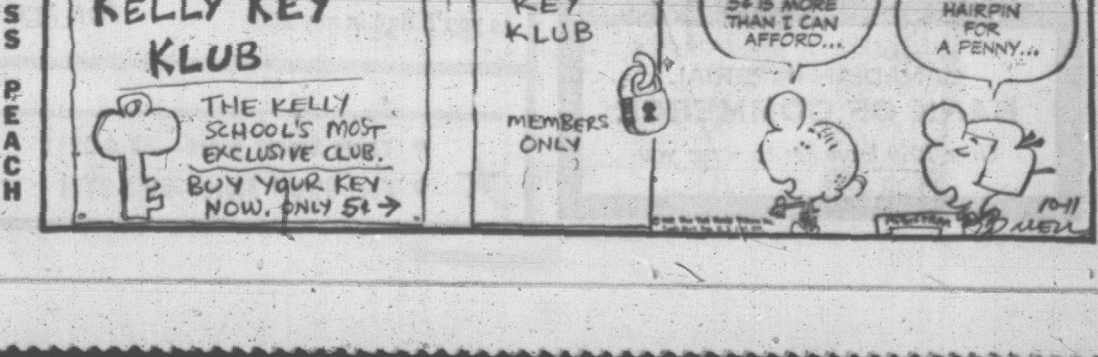

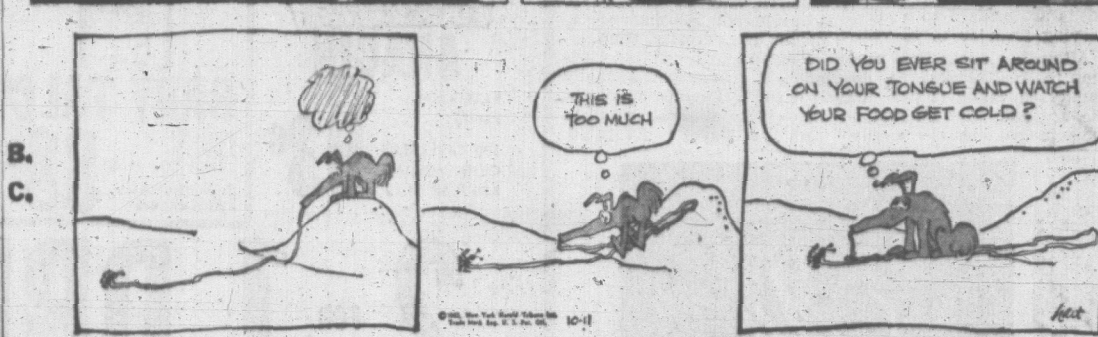

The teen-age baby-sitter has to be an expert in several things. We act almost as an answering service for friends of the family who phone while they're out. It matters a great deal whether we sound pleasant or not.

"The reason I'm writing is that a mother recently became angry with me when I wanted to know the telephone number of the party she and her husband were visiting. Then she came home late and refused to pay any extra charges."

"It's time somebody stood up for the baby-sitter!"

Skit Portrayed God As Negro

LONDON (Reuters) — An American satirical revue now appearing in London was reported today to have been forbidden to perform a skit in which God was portrayed as a Negro.

The Daily Mail says the skit in The Premise at the Comedy Theatre shows the pro-segregationist governor of a southern American state dying and going to heaven where he finds a Negro god.

The Lord Chamberlain, watchdog of Britain's stage morals, banned the skit after it had been shown in two performances.

Victoria's Symphony Proved Most Popular

With the highest percentage of population attendance for its concerts of any city in North America, Victoria Symphony Orchestra feels it has something to shout about as Symphony Week is celebrated in the city.

Broadcast symphonic music on downtown streets coincides with season ticket sales at Eaton's box office. According to report, the orchestra's popularity is more in evidence than ever as demand for the 10-concert series tickets continues at a good pace.

Two symphony events of more than usual interest this season, will be the visit of an outstanding Russian conductor, Yuri Lutsiv, and presentation of Puccini's opera, "La Boheme," in its entirety by the Canadian Opera Company.

Also, the concluding pair of concerts scheduled for May, will feature a well-known international celebrity.

UNEXPECTED EXCURSION

'Anchors Aweigh, And Away We Go'

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Donahue, in New York City to see the sights, decided to tour the British liner Queen Mary. Before long, they were on the roof of a battered cabin cruiser, riding into Halifax.

The couple told this story Wednesday. In New York last week, they bought tickets Wednesday for a boat ride around Manhattan Island but found they had some time to kill before the excursion boat left. The Queen Mary was nearby, so they went aboard to look her over.

While below deck they thought they felt the ship moving.

"This is just like going on a trip," Mrs. Donahue remarked.

A band started playing. "Hey, they're playing anchors, weigh," Donahue said.

SHIP WAS MOVING

The Queen Mary was sailing, bound for Southampton. Donahue ran to the ship's purser and explained they were not passengers.

Attempts to put them aboard a tugboat were unsuccessful because of a longshoremen's strike.

The liner was due off Halifax the next day for a refueling stop. The Donahues were told they would be put ashore there. Until then, they were first-class guests—for a nominal fee.

Donahue said he had $45 with him. He did not say what he was charged.

When the liner reached Halifax Thursday, they were put aboard an old cabin cruiser dispatched from the port and rode back on the roof. There was no room inside.

FINALLY RETURN

They flew to New York that night and returned to their hotel.

The next day, before they boarded a plane for Elmira and home, Donahue met the man in the hotel lobby who had sold him the tickets for the boat ride around Manhattan.

"How did you enjoy the trip?" the man asked.

Donahue told him.

The man refunded the $3 Donahue had paid for the tickets.

BANANAS ARE IMPORTED for the same reasons that LEMON HART RUMS ARE IMPORTED

Bananas are not native to Canada... and neither are rums. Lemon Hart, for example, is produced under the most wonderful conditions in The Caribbean. But for Lemon Hart, even that is not enough: It's shipped to London where it rests quietly in underground vaults where neither the temperature nor the humidity varies more than a degree or two year in year out. Then, meticulously blended and bottled it's finally shipped to Canada... smooth, mellow, delicious... a perfect product of that small area of the world that is famous for distinguished rum.

Ernest Borgnine Launches New 'McHale's Navy' Comedy at 10:30

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

TWO SHOWS to get off to a fine running start this season, I thought, were CBS-TV's "Ed Sullivan Show" and NBC-TV's "Bonanza".

What I enjoyed most about Sullivan's effort last Sunday night was the diversification of the program. In whipping up vaudeville shows of this type the mixing counts highly and can spell the difference between flop and triumph by the over-all flavor it imparts.

For instance, for the young and the squealing swoon-goers there was Canada's No. 1 export, Paul Anka, who I enjoyed in spite of myself—except when he monkeyed around with something about D-Day, "The Longest Day." Then there was Judy Garland's protegee, the amazing Yolanda White, who looks like some kid up an apple tree but who can sing with the grown-upness of a femme fatale.

For those like myself who get a bang out of such unfilled shenanigans there was trampolining artist Dick Alberts, who not only proved to be a most engaging entertainer but a first-rate athlete as well. Again, the contrasts—the late Eddie Duchin's son Peter playing the piano in a manner that would have made his dad proud of him and about as clever a ventriloquist as I have ever heard; England's Dennis Spicer. His dummy was so life-like that it had to be seen to be believed.

These acts, plus comedian Vaughn Meader and the usual visiting firemen (in this case ballmen) combined to send Ed another step into his 15th year that, with luck, can be pushed through for another 15—at least.

Nearly everyone loves vaudeville and Sullivan, on the majority of Sundays, serves it up better than any one else on television.

ACCORDING to my last figures as reported Tuesday in this column, NBC-TV's weekly western series, "Bonanza," was second in the ratings in all TV—only a middle-aged maid named Hazel was ahead of the lusty men of the Ponderosa, headed by Canada's Lorne Greene, one-time CBC news announcer.

Watching last Sunday's play, "The Artist," one had little trouble understanding the series' appeal to TV's "wasteland" masses.

Although perhaps "The Artist" wouldn't have merited Broadway or London's better theatres, in the realm of normal rangeland sagas the "Bonanza" offering was strictly carriage trade.

Employing the arts of perhaps one of the most overlooked and underrated actors in North America, Dan O'Herlihy, the tale was about a blind artist who had withdrawn into a world of his own named self-pity. Before the hour was over the big boss-owner of the Ponderosa, Ben Cartwright, had helped him back into the world of friendliness and love.

Perhaps at times it was overly dramatic, at other times more than a little unbelievable, nonetheless, the play was often moving and always interesting—standing shoulder-high over the normal TV oater with its bad guys and its good guys, its tireless gunplay, inevitable showdowns and sickening bravura and petty posturings.

I would guess that "Bonanza" will be up there for a long time to come.

HOME
TIME
Now available in three grades

"FOREST" CEDAR SIDING
Made of dry 1 1/2" stock in 10 and 12-inch widths. "FOREST" siding is a new type of siding designed for specially selected cedar logs sawn to show the beauty and character of knots, burls, etc.

APPEARANCE?
For homes and buildings where a distinctive and pleasing appearance is desired, enhanced by heavy shadow lines. Sounded interlocking knots ranging in size from 2-inch to 6-inch widths to 4-inch in 12-inch widths add to the rustic appearance of this grade.

WHAT ARE ITS QUALITIES?
"FOREST" siding with its substantial thickness and greater wood volume, adds to the structural strength and solidity of the building.

"FOREST" SIDING
Ensures a tight weather seal at the lap which together with its "fir" and flush-to-face joint makes excellent material for the insulation stand-point.

"FOREST" SIDING
Represents an economy to home builders. Costing less than most other types of siding, the lap design ensures easy fitting and speedy application at less labor cost.

HOW IS IT APPLIED?
As easily and quickly as common shingles. Each piece of "FOREST" siding fits snugly on the one below and requires only one nail cut.

HOW CAN IT BE FINISHED?
If a natural finish is desired, use equal proportions of linseed oil and any well-known wood preservative. This not only protects the wood surface, but also brings out the grain. If a colored finish is desired, "FOREST" siding can easily be painted. It is recommended that a sharp instrument be used to score the finished product—immediately, where it will not show, to stop formation of a vapor barrier.

ADLAI BEFORE UN: 'Half-Loaf Better Than No A-Ban'

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson appealed to the United Nations General Assembly Wednesday to take a firm position on putting an end to nuclear tests to forestall another cycle of U.S. and Soviet tests.

Valerian Zorin, the Soviet deputy foreign minister, countered with a blast against U.S. proposals for a limited test-ban agreement.

Stevenson and Zorin spoke in the assembly's main political committee as it opened a new round of debate on the nuclear test-ban issue.

Both the United States and Soviet Union are engaged in a series of tests. The United States announced Wednesday it plans a high-altitude test over the Pacific next Sunday or Monday.

Stevenson spelled out again the U.S. offer to accept a ban on tests in space, the atmosphere and under water, without requiring inspection.

CITES PREFERENCE

He said the United States would much prefer a comprehensive treaty banning tests also underground, where it is demanding inspection machinery.

"But if that is impossible a

Blast Kills Miners

VIENNA (AP)—Seven Czech coal miners were killed in a mine explosion near Ostrava, the Ostrava daily Nova Svoboda reported in a copy received here Wednesday. The paper said the explosion occurred Sept. 27.

half-loaf is better than none," he said. "And it is more than a half-loaf, because at least 90 per cent of the force of all nuclear tests from the beginning have been exploded above ground."

Zorin said the United States has no desire to end tests, and its "half a loaf" proposal is designed to make U.S. continuation possible.

He said Western insistence upon inspection is a trick designed to enable the NATO powers to pinpoint targets in the Soviet Union for nuclear attack.

He said that the Soviet Union is ready to sign a limited test-ban pact and negotiate an agreement on underground tests—with the provision that no tests take place while the negotiations proceed.

RAID REACTION

Cuba PoW
Talks
Hit Snag

WASHINGTON (CPAP) — Cuban exiles in the United States are worried about the effects a reported rebel raid on Cuba may have on current negotiations for release of Cuban invasion prisoners.

The negotiations were reported Wednesday to have hit a snag. The talks between Cuban Premier Castro and New York lawyer James Donovan, representing relatives of the prisoners, were to have ended Wednesday night, but further meetings will be needed to straighten out certain unspecified terms.

A communiqué in Miami from an exile group calling itself Alpha 66 said raiders attacked a camp of Cuban militiamen and Russian military men on Cuba's north shore shortly after midnight Monday and stayed ashore for nearly two hours.

"In the railroad yards of the city," the communiqué said, "a warehouse of military supplies and four other strategic points were destroyed; many weapons and some flags of the enemy were captured. No fewer than 20 enemy were killed." A spokesman for Alpha 66 said some of the slain were Russians but did not say how many.

The spokesman said 15 to 25 men were in the attacking force that some were wounded, but that all got away.

In San Juan, Puerto Rico, Antonio Veciana, another spokesman for Alpha 66, said the "war trophies" would be exhibited in San Juan's baseball stadium Saturday.

Alpha 66 staged its first raid Sept. 10 with a night attack on a British freighter and two Cuban cargo vessels anchored off Cuba's northern coast.

In a broadcast from San Juan, Veciana said Alpha 66 is declaring war on all ships carrying supplies to Cuba. He told the American Broadcasting Company attacks would be made on all vessels, not just those from Iron Curtain countries.

Veciana also said Alpha 66 plans three more raids on Cuba before the end of October.

Ransom
Payments
Scored

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sharp opposition developed in Congress today to any plan for the U.S. government to pay part of the ransom demanded by Fidel Castro for Cuban invasion prisoners.

Congressional sources said they understood that the United States was prepared to put up "lots of money" to help free the more than 1,000 Cubans captured in the abortive invasion last year.

These sources gave no estimate on exactly how much federal money might be used. Castro is demanding about $62 million for release of the prisoners.

Sen. John F. Williams, R-Del., urged President Kennedy Wednesday to deny reports that federal funds would be involved. The state department and White House declined comment.

Rep. A. S. Herlong, D-Fla., wired the president that a "repugnant" to our traditions.

British Shipowners
Buck Cuba Sanctions

LONDON (UPI) — British shipowners decided unanimously today to oppose any restrictions on their trade with Cuba.

The council of shipping, which represents shippers, met here to discuss reports that the United States government was planning new measures to penalize ships carrying Communist goods to Cuba.

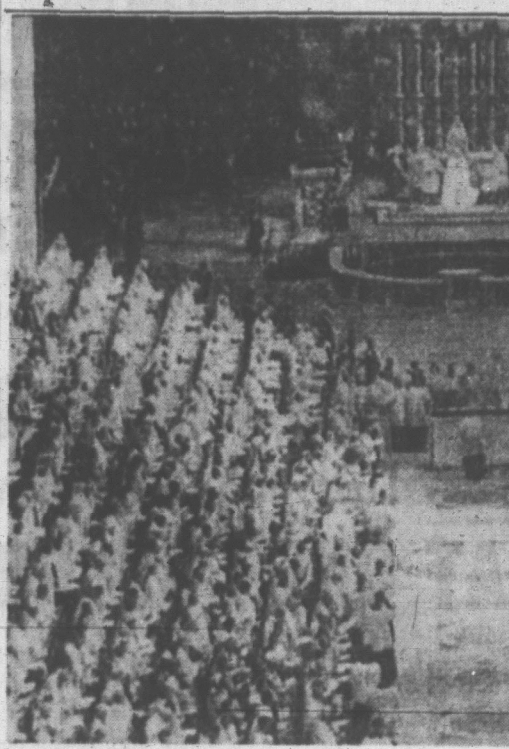

A statement issued by the council said: "It is a matter of grave concern to owners engaged in trade that they could be involved in sanctions."

The shipowners pointed out that some of their ships were engaged in long-term charter

TOULON, France (Reuters) — More than 3,000 gendarmes and riot police were deployed in a massive security effort here today as President de Gaulle flew aboard the French aircraft carrier Clemenceau to watch naval manoeuvres in the Mediterranean near here.

De Gaulle — who has escaped unscathed from attempts on his life — landed on the 30,000-ton Clemenceau in a helicopter from Toulon.

'Unity of Mankind' Stressed
As Pope John Opens Council

By DANIEL F. GILMORE
VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII, a portly, fatherly figure in white, today opened the 21st Ecumenical Council of the Roman Catholic Church that he said may pave the way for the "unity of mankind."

(See also Page 3)

With the scene and the 80-year-old pontiff's words broadcast through space by the Telstar satellite, the church in a four-hour and 38-minute ceremony began the task of attuning itself to the nuclear age.

From the great basilica of St. Peter's the Pope addressed his words to all peoples as well as to the 3,000 Roman Catholic leaders and about 50 observers from other Christian faiths assembled for the historic concave.

Pope John spoke for 37 minutes after an inaugural mass and a magnificent procession of richly-garbed prelates which made its way through St. Peter's Square to the sound of pealing church bells and the cheers of more than 150,000 spectators.

"Long live the Pope," they cried in a multitude of languages.

The traditional Italian language cheer of "Viva il Papa" was repeated inside the basilica after the Pope's speech.

The Pope, who descended from his portable throne to enter and walk down the aisle of the ancient church converted into a modern council chamber with electronic novelties, was buoyant in the enthusiasm of opening the first ecumenical council in almost a century.

Historically, it will be known as the second Vatican council, held on the site where the Roman emperor Nero once fed Christians to the lions. It is the largest council in history, with prelates present from 53 countries on the six continents, and the first to be attended by Protestant observers.

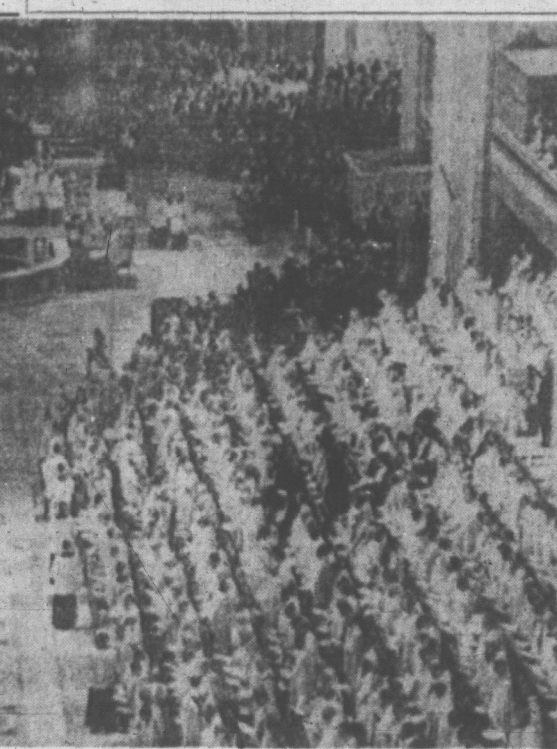

Chinese Reds Killed

and they would oppose any moves to break the charter contracts.

The British insist that none of their ships is engaged in carrying arms or war materials to Cuba. British ships do, however, play a major part in carrying normal cargo between Cuba and Communist ports.

BELIEVE

STOCKPORT, England (AP) — School teacher Margaret Hunter — whose driving instructor fled crying "this is suicide" — set out at the wheel again Wednesday to prove him wrong.

A few minutes later the 65-year-old woman scrambled from the wreck of her small auto and explained: "It was most unfortunate. I was just driving into the main road when I saw this truck bearing down on me. There was a terrific crash."

The instructor abandoned her in mid-lesson Tuesday expressing fear for his life and complaining that Miss Hunter paid no attention to his instruction.

NO DEAL?

Bennett
Shrugs Off
Columbia

By FRANK BUTTER
Premier Bennett returned today from talks with New York financiers and exhibited an astonishing lack of interest in the Columbia River power project.

His attitude appeared to be a complete change of policy — and some observers fear it is an indication that the financial deal he was planning for the Columbia has collapsed.

He said he is not concerned how Columbia power is sold to the United States as long as the money pays for construction of dams and generators to produce "free power" in B.C.

He said he did not discuss the Columbia at all on his week-long New York visit.

He seemed more interested in the Peace River project.

WANTED BOTH
Up to now he has consistently demanded simultaneous development of both projects.

Technical experts on the Columbia from B.C. Hydro were away "somewhere" at the same time as Mr. Bennett. But the premier disclaimed any connection with their negotiations with U.S. power officials.

He told a press conference he and deputy finance minister G. S. Bryson went to New York for a "survey" of the money market.

"I didn't ask for any money," he said.

He found the market "extremely favorable" and said he could raise financing for the Peace project there if he wanted to, but would also sound out markets in Toronto and Montreal.

DEFENDED ECONOMY
Mr. Bennett couched his remarks with a detailed defence of B.C.'s economy.

He said there is no austerity in this province, and cited a long list of highway projects and ferry plans to support his claim.

The premier had been believed seeking two things on his U.S. trip: an agreement to purchase downstream benefits from the Columbia project for a price equal to 5 mills per kilowatt-hour.

'He Never Knew
What Hit Him'

By DESMOND BILL
Ronald G. Wilson "never knew what hit him" when a car with headlights glaring "drove straight into him" at about 11.30 Wednesday night on Douglas Street near Larch.

The northbound car did not stop. It accelerated and turned east on Tolmie Avenue.

But within hours police arrested Robert J. Brotherston, 1577 McRae Avenue, an ex-provincial policeman, and charged him with impaired driving in connection with the fatality.

The accused man was remanded without plea until Monday, when he appeared in police court today. A new charge may be laid against him at that time.

NEVER STIRRED
The car hit Mr. Wilson, who lived at 568 Starling Lane off the Old West Road, with "tremendous impact," according to Russell Jeffs, 1875 St. Ann St., a friend of the dead man who had a narrow escape in the accident. "He never stirred once after he fell on the road."

The two men had just left Paul's Crown House at 3075 Douglas and were standing in the road about to get into their cars, parked one behind the other, when the accident occurred.

Said Mr. Jeffs: "I said goodnight to him. He was putting the key in his car door when I sensed this car coming at us."

"I looked back and saw the headlights. It seemed to be driving straight into us."

"It grazed me and drove straight into him. He never knew what hit him."

DEAD ON ARRIVAL
Mr. Wilson was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital in a police vehicle. He was pronounced dead on arrival.

The two men had met earlier in the evening at 89 Kinsmen Air Cadet Squadron where Mr. Wilson had been a civilian instructor for four years.

They were on their way home and had stopped for coffee and a talk over old times. Both served in the RAF.

Mr. Wilson, 45, was born in Dunfermline, Scotland, and served 12 years in the RAF, retiring in 1946 with the rank of squadron leader. He came to Canada that year and for the past eight years had been employed by Fairley Aviation.

Mr. Wilson is survived by his wife and two daughters, aged nine and five.

McCall Brothers have charge of funeral arrangements.

Fierce Battles
On Yemen Borders

CAIRO (Reuters) — Fierce battles were reported raging along the borders of Yemen today in the wake of other reports saying the new Yemeni republican government considered itself at war with neighboring Saudi Arabia.

All Cairo newspapers carried reports describing "ferocious" battles along the frontiers between Yemeni revolutionary forces and "forces of aggression."

The reports, from the semi-official Egyptian Middle East news agency correspondent in the Yemeni capital of Sana'a, said latest information indicated King Saud of Saudi Arabia had sent regular forces to the northern borders and was working desperately to concentrate all arms in the south.

Some reports Wednesday said royalist forces had overwhelmed a garrison of 500 revolutionary troops defending a border fort.

Anglican Archbishop
Raises Touchy Issue

LONDON (AP) — The Archbishop of Canterbury expressed hope today that the Roman Catholic Church, at the Vatican ecumenical council, will take a fresh look at some of its policies, which he said offend other Christians.

The archbishop, Dr. Michael Ramsey, said in an interview in the weekly Catholic Herald: "A good example of this is the question of mixed marriages, where some of the procedures and demands are very painful to Anglicans."

"I am thinking, of course, of the invitation to the future husband or wife to abandon their Anglican faith, and the insistence that the children of the marriage must be brought up as Roman Catholics."

"Another thing that hurts us very much is the principle that converts to the Roman Church should be baptized again, albeit conditionally, as this is a reflection on Anglican baptism — which in fact, you recognize in theory."

The interview, with Catholic Herald assistant editor Hugh Kay, was the first ever given by a head of the Anglican Church to a Roman Catholic publication. The Herald is edited for Catholics by members of their own faith, but is not an official organ of the church.

Kay asked: "Could we not do more together in the way of joint social action, and joint public approaches to moral questions?"

"I think we most certainly could," Dr. Ramsey replied. "I would envisage consultations between Anglicans, Roman Catholics and the free churches in various localities to thresh out joint statements on what needs to be said imperatively in such matters. This would be very suitable at times when big national questions come up."

John D. Pessimistic
On Problem of 'Sons'

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker expressed pessimism today about prospects for a final settlement of the problem created by the radical Sons of Freedom Sect of Doukhobors.

In reply to a Commons question by NDP House Leader H. W. Hurd, Mr. Diefenbaker said that so far as any part of the Freedomite problem is a federal responsibility, the government would give every consideration to bringing about a settlement.

But he added that "on the basis of the experience of years, one might express the hope without much hope."

Mr. Hurd referred to a proposal Wednesday in the Senate by Senator David Croll (N.S.) that a 20-member Senate committee be set up to study the Freedomite problem.

MONACO MUST MAKE TAX DEAL WITH FRANCE

No Lights, Water for Grace?

MONTE CARLO (UPI) — The tiny principality of Monaco has until midnight to make a new tax deal with French President Charles de Gaulle or face the prospect of being swallowed up by France.

Monaco is known the world over for its Princess Grace, its gambling casino, its sunny climate and its lack of income taxes.

The absence of income tax is what bothers de Gaulle. He has long suspected that Frenchmen and French firms have moved to Monaco to avoid paying French taxes.

Last April, he gave Prince Rainier of Monaco a six-month ultimatum: Plug the loophole through a new agreement or face integration into the French nation.

De Gaulle's action came after Rainier fired Emile Pelletier, a sort of premier appointed by Paris to act as a watchdog over the principality under a 1951 agreement with France.

If Monaco becomes a part of France, all its 30,000 residents will be eligible for the French income tax. Complete resistance to French demands is considered out of the question.

France could cut off all the water, gas and electricity in the 370-acre enclave. Princess Grace and Prince Rainier, who currently are vacationing in Paris, might return to find no lights in the palace and no water for the bathtubs.

Informed sources said a compromise probably would be reached by negotiators. This might mean that the estimated 7,000 French residents of Monaco would start paying taxes, but not the native Monegasques.

Mister Bennett figures if he kin build enuff ferries he kin keep th' province afloat.

Wonder how th' Freedomites observe Fire Prevention Week?

FULL-TIME TRADING

MARKET SUMMARIES

Industrials Down
In Light Trading

Fractional losses dominated industrial stocks in light trading today on the Toronto stock market.

Abitibi, Salada Foods, Consolidated Paper, Toronto Dominion Bank and Distillers Seagrams all declined in a 1/4-range.

Aluminum, Royal Bank and Bank of Montreal all dropped 1/4, while Power Corporation, Steel Company of Canada, Alberta Gas and Canadian Breweries all fell 1/4.

Trading was sluggish at New York with changes of most key stocks fractional. A scattering of stocks moved a point or so.

AT TORONTO among base metals, International Nickel dropped 1/4 and Noranda and Denison 1/4 each. Speculators saw Violam gain seven cents to $1.45 after earlier touching $1.85, its highest this year.

In western oil, Dome fell 1/4 and Pacific Petroleum and Calgary and Edmonton 1/4 each. Hudson's Bay rose 1/4, while Central Del Rio gained 1/4 to $8.80.

AT NEW YORK among Canadian issues, Distillers Seagrams and Dome Mines declined 1/4 each. Aluminum Ltd. was off 1/4. Granby Mining and Canadian Pacific 1/4. McIntyre Porcupine was up 1/4 and International Nickel 1/4.

Prices on the American exchange were mixed in slow trading. Shawinigan was ahead 1/4 while Scurry Railway Oil eased 1/4.

AT MONTREAL Central Del Rio, last week's spectacular climber, was on the way up again today on the stock exchange. Banks, Wednesday's principal gainers, sagged.

AT LONDON a fresh advance in gilt-edged securities

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP)—Sharp, day-long recessions, remained in the flax market at near close of moderate trading today on the Winnipeg grain exchange.

Selling in flax was prompted by a United States government report revising upward new estimates of the commodity in that country. There was also some hedging resulting from increased flax deliveries from country points.

The rye market was hesitant following a move by West Germany to purchase some of its rye demands from Russia.

Trading was slow. Oats and barley prices moved narrowly in generally domestic trading.

Overnight export loadings of Canadian wheat included: Communist China 1,875,000 bushels, United Kingdom 1,300,000, Japan 545,000, West Germany 365,000, Poland 175,000 and small amounts to Switzerland and Jamaica.

Class Two, IWA and domestic wheat prices, basis Lakehead, were all unchanged from Wednesday's close.

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybean futures took a pounding throughout most of the session on the board of trade today.

The price break, ranging up to 3 1/2 cents a bushel at times, was touched off by the U.S. government's October crop report forecasting soybean production of 672,000,000 bushels.

This was 3,000,000 bushels higher than the September forecast, but many traders had expected early frost damage would cut the forecast to a figure as low as 650,000,000 bushels.

UNITED APPEAL TOTAL PASSES 40 PER CENT

Greater Victoria's United Appeal jumped past the 40 per cent mark today with a new total of $145,622. As division chairmen are in the throes of cleaning up their respective campaign divisions prior to the residential canvass beginning Monday, Appeal officials are anticipating big returns at Friday's weekly report luncheon. The downtown information booth will close Saturday, but persons wishing to make donations can do so at the Yates and Douglas branch of the Bank of Montreal.

ARTHUR MAYSE

One day last week, the manager of a local meat department uttered words which are still being quoted with sniffs, sneers and outright snorts of wrath in kitchens throughout the town.

Commenting on the price of beef, which has mounted steadily since a devaluated Canadian dollar provided an attractive market for American buyers, he admitted there'd been an initial squawk or two from the housewives.

"But," he added blandly, "now they don't even remember what the price used to be."

Oh, brother! Maybe his wife doesn't remember. But as a longtime purveyor of grocery carts, let me assure him that mine does, you bet!

Of maybe the poor devalued fellow isn't married, in which case his knowledge of the female psyche wouldn't cover the way women react when the price of hamburger—not even ground round steak, mind, but just plain old dogmeat hamburger—jumps as much as two cents.

A stroll on the other side of his counter would teach him quick. So would a couple of dozen marked-down sirloins tumbled into the bargain bin, provided he got out of the way in time.

I don't propose to offer without support my contention that the sight of overpriced meat brings out the tiger in women. What I'm going to do is flip open a phone book, dial a few numbers, and at the risk of a thick ear let this Polyanna of the block and cleaver learn just how well aware Mrs. Victoria is that the price of beef has gone up... up... up.

For a start, here's Mrs. John G. Watson of 4078 Cedar Hill Road.

"Oh my goodness," says Mrs. Watson, "that man couldn't be farther off the track! I know, and I'm sure most wives know practically to the penny how much the family groceries cost each week.

"These last two months, meat prices have climbed out of all proportion. It's bad enough for an employed family, but how people out of work and with children are getting along, or the old age pensioners, I can't even imagine."

Next number belongs to Mrs. William C. Weeks of 4306 Glenford, who agrees that our butcher chum is singing off the wrong page.

"Who says we don't remember?" Mrs. Weeks challenges. "I can tell you right off that hamburger used to be 49 cents a pound, and that last time I bought any, the price was up to 53 cents."

"As for roast prices," she adds with feeling, "I'd just as soon not talk about them!"

Instant support comes from Mrs. E. C. Phillips of 273 Belmont, who states firmly that she and every other housewife of her acquaintance has a memory like an elephant for meat prices of then and now. But since Mrs. Phillips buys her family's meat in three-month lots for her freezer, we ought in fairness to try another number.

Mrs. William D. Osborne is the next wife whose morning we'll ruin with the prickly question.

"That man," says Mrs. Osborne, who rules the kitchen at 2676 Sea View Road, "has got holes in his head. Of course I remember!"

"A few months ago, a sirloin roast sold for $1.01 a pound. Now it's about $1.20. Ground round steak was 79 or 80 cents. It's about 93 cents now."

"No one, or hardly any of us, can disregard the price of meat. After all, it's one of the major items in a family's food budget. I certainly keep track of it, and unless she gets hers free, you can be sure that butcher's wife does, too." That'll lam him!

GIANT UKRAINIAN ON STAGE TONIGHT

Singer Prefers Honor to Millions

By DESMOND BILL

Ukrainian singer Dmitro Hnatiuk, who will give a concert at Royal Theatre tonight, says he would rather be a "People's Artist of the U.S.S.R." than a millionaire. The enormously built singer—he stands 6'5" tall and weighs about 250 pounds—says there is not a chance he will become a millionaire anyway.

And this is just as well. It would be bad for his ego to have that much money, he says.

According to him, "any entertainer who thinks he is better than ordinary people is not an artist."

The 37-year-old baritone, one of the world's great baritones, lives a spartan life.

LIGHT EATER

Despite his size he does not eat much. He does not smoke nor drink and is reluctant even to stay in the same room with someone who is smoking.

If he does not get eight hours of sleep a night and one before a concert it affects his performance. And he loses several pounds after every concert from "nerves and emotion."

Singing is his life. But before he decided on a musical career he was a steel worker, a farmer and a teacher.

Then, he says, "I began to take life seriously. I always wanted to sing. When my voice developed I decided that I should enter the conservatory."

His career has taken him from a peasant family in the Ukraine to the position of "People's Artist of the U.S.S.R." In recent months he visited India, Australia, Africa and Western Europe.

He will appear in 10 more Canadian cities after his concert tonight.

His visit to Canada is one-half of a cultural exchange which has taken Toronto folk singers, The Travellers, to the Soviet Union.

In Edmonton Mr. Hnatiuk met his sister Anna whom he had not seen for 25 years.

He was only nine years old when she left for America to marry.

When she was 14, a young Canadian traveller visited the Hnatiuk family in the Ukraine. When he left he corresponded trying to coax Anna to marry him and obtain the permission of her parents to the marriage.

After five years of writing he succeeded.

His sister is accompanying Mr. Hnatiuk on his tour but she stayed in Vancouver and did not come with him to Victoria. She is not a singer. Of the five children in the family, Dmitro was the only one with musical ability.

'Bennett Fleet' Gets New Ships

Two New 'Queens' Will Be Built

Premier Bennett today announced plans to build two big new ferries for the government's Island-Mainland services.

He will have eight full-size ferries in his fleet by summer, 1964.

The premier also announced plans for a big shuffle of existing ferries this winter.

The two new ships—costing about $3,500,000 each—will be built next year and in service for the 1964 summer season, which the premier predicted will be an all-time record tourist year for B.C.

FILLING CPR GAP

His plan to put four big vessels on the Nanaimo-Horseshoe Bay service filling the gap left by CPR's cutdown this fall.

Mr. Bennett also announced that two ferries now being built at Victoria Machinery Depot will be named Queen of Saanich and Queen of Esquimalt.

First will be launched next month; the other in January. Both will go on the Swartz Bay-Tsawwassen service next summer, he said.

Another new ferry being built for the Gulf Islands will be launched next July.

Meanwhile, first step in the big ship shuffle will come Nov. 1 when the Nanaimo and Swartz Bay ferry services will be cut to two vessels.

GOODBYE KAHOLOKE

On Jan. 2 next year the former Black Ball vessel Kahloke will be sent to the "Sunshine Coast" service, between Horseshoe Bay and Langdale.

This summer it has run between Vancouver Island and the mainland.

Mr. Bennett said the Toll Authority will spend $200,000 on new wharf facilities at Langdale.

Business on the "Sunshine Coast" this summer has proved "just enormous," said Mr. Bennett.

Next shuffle will come in the summer of 1963 when the Nanaimo-Horseshoe Bay service will have three ferries—

Sidney, Tsawwassen and Chinook.

GOODBYE CHINOOK

Then in 1964 Saanich and Esquimalt will join the fleet and Chinook will be sent to the "Sunshine Coast" with Kahloke.

Swartz Bay and Nanaimo will then both have hourly service to the mainland.

"This will be a fleet all British Columbians should be proud of."

Canada, U.S. Anti-Sub Exercise

Surface, air and undersea units of the Canadian and United States navies commenced a week-long anti-submarine exercise in B.C. coastal waters this morning.

The RCN submarine HMCS Grilse and a submarine from the U.S. base at Pearl Harbor are attempting to evade the hunt-kill tactics of surface units from Esquimalt, RCAF maritime patrol aircraft from RCAF base, Comox, and USN aircraft from Whidbey Island.

Eleven Pacific Command ships are taking part.

SHINING BEAUTY of this costume worn by pretty Rosabelle Yuen, will dazzle spectators at the centennial Chinese pageant which is to be part of the 7th annual Lantern Festival staged by Victoria Chinatown Lions Club at the Sirocco, Oct. 24, from 2 to 5 and 7 to 11 p.m. The eight-piece costume, to be seen in Victoria for the first time, represents the "Goddess of the Moon." Six door prizes will be drawn. Proceeds are to go to Lions' charities.

Russian Vessel 'Passes Through'

A Russian government research vessel picked up pilots off Dallas Road at 5 a.m. today, inbound for Vancouver.

She is the 167-foot, 333-ton, three-masted schooner Zarja, listed in Lloyd's Registry as a wooden auxiliary research vessel operated by the U.S.S.R.

Naval intelligence at Esquimalt said the vessel requested two pilots, who went aboard from the B.C. Pilotage launch this morning. The navy said the Zarja had been cleared for entry into Canadian waters, and to a Canadian port.

It is believed the vessel has been engaged in fisheries research in the Pacific.

Jaycees Seeking New Members

Major city businesses and corporations will be asked to sponsor eligible employees for membership in the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce during a November membership drive.

Plans for financing the drive were announced during the presentation of the 1962-63 budget Wednesday night.

Projects included in the $13,000 budget are financing of the provincial finals of the teen-age rodeo to be held here next year, annual Christmas lighting contest among house owners, get-out-and-vote campaign and various community clean up campaigns.

Mrs. W. T. Straith Dies After Lengthy Illness

Death came this morning, after an illness of several months, to Mrs. William T. (Mae) Straith, 2768 Satellite Street, wife of the well-known city lawyer and former British Columbia minister of education in the Coalition government.

Mrs. Straith was born in Whitewood, Sask., and had lived in Victoria for the past 48 years. During her long life she was active in many organizations and was honored early this year, she was honored with Mr. Straith among long-time members.

This summer she accompanied her husband on one of their several trips overseas and it was after her return that she became seriously ill.

She leaves her husband, at home, two daughters, Mrs. J. (Mary) Laurie, Victoria, and Mrs. R. A. (Janet) Stuart, Vancouver, also six grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Robert (Maude) Buchan, Victoria.

Funeral and committal services will be held at First United Church on Monday at 3 p.m., with Rev. A. I. Higgins officiating. Arrangements are in charge of Sands Mortuary.

AFFECTION city police hold for policewoman Alice K. Pye, retiring after 25 years, was expressed Wednesday night at reception. Const. Louis Truesdale, rookie of force, presented Miss Pye with gold-plated badge, camera, Dresden china, and cheque from police benevolent fund before police officials and members, court officers, and other legal representatives. (Times photo).

City Hall Hits Back At Trustees' Move

City Hall officials today hit back at a school trustees' bid to deny civic governments an appeal against extravagance by school boards.

Both Mayor R. B. Wilson and Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow were critical of a resolution to be discussed by the B.C. School Trustees' Association convention here next week.

The resolution urges abolition of the present right of municipal councils to seek arbitration of some items in school board budgets if they believe them to be extravagant.

"Nobody should be afraid of arbitration," said Mayor Wilson.

Juveniles Caught In Burglary

Several juveniles have been arrested in connection with a break-in Tuesday night at Duff-Mackay Equipment Ltd. The youths gained entrance through a ventilator window in the roof of the United Engineering Building.

They climbed over a partition into the office and took $30 from a cash box.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. How old is the Johnson Street Bridge? L.S.

A. Victoria's Johnson Street Bridge is 33 years old. It was opened January 11, 1924.

Q. What feat must a pilot accomplish to be entitled to wear the wings of an astronaut? W.C.

A. He must vault 50 miles or more above the earth.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times," Editor, 1100 Douglas St., and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to a dealer.

Forgery Attempted 'To Fool Communists'

A Victoria Chinese, charged with trying to obtain forged documents for the release of his wife's relatives from Communist China, is alleged to have told an RCMP constable here:

"I cannot see what difference it makes, because it is against the Communists and does not harm anyone."

The statement was read in B.C. Assize Court Wednesday afternoon during the trial of Peter Chong of 817 Kings Road, accused of attempting to persuade Victoria printing firm officials to help him in an "immigration swindle."

Constable Gerald Whittaker said he questioned Chong at his home. Chong admitted he had asked representatives of local printing firms to print facsimiles of Immigration Department letterheads.

SEND LETTERHEADS

The constable on oath gave this account of the interview which followed:

Chong told him he wanted to send the letterheads to his mother-in-law in Hong Kong so she could get her family out of Communist China.

"Where did you get the idea?" the constable asked. Chong: "I heard a lot of people were doing this to get their relatives out of Communist China... everyone is doing this. This is being done by many persons living in Victoria."

"I cannot see what difference it makes because it is against the Communists and does not harm anyone."

FOOL COMMUNISTS

Constable Whittaker said Chong told him his mother-in-law in Hong Kong suggested he get the official letterheads in Victoria to "fool the Communist government."

"Who was going to complete these letterheads?" the constable asked.

"I was," Chong replied. "Who was going to supply the information?"

"My mother-in-law in Hong Kong."

Constable Whittaker said he then asked Chong what he would do with the 500 letterheads he wanted to order. Chong gave no answer to this question, but later said:

"The idea was to bring my wife's relatives from Communist China to Hong Kong."

HAD PASSPORT

Constable Whittaker said Chong told him he had obtained a Canadian passport himself some time ago.

The 12-man jury hearing the charges against Chong had to leave the court for nearly two hours Wednesday while lawyers debated whether Constable Whittaker's evidence was admissible.

Joseph McKenna, QC, who is defending Chong, argued that his statements to the constable were made in an atmosphere of "fear."

Crown prosecutor Berkeley Monteith denied this. He said Constable Whittaker interviewed Chong in his own home and cautioned him, both in English and Chinese, that anything he said might be used as evidence.

Mr. Justice R. A. Wootton ruled that the constable's evidence was admissible and the jury was recalled.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Grand Factor Howard MacInroy and Grand Secretary W. Greenwood will pay an official visit to the Native Sons of British Columbia, Post No. 1 at the lodge's Monday meeting, 8 p.m. at the Craigflower museum.

Eric Still, 545 Johnson, was fined $10 Wednesday for being intoxicated and ordered to put up a $250 bond that he will be of good behavior for 12 months.

The bond was required after he admitted in city police court to smashing a basement window at his wife's home.

Last week he was fined $75 on a charge of wilful damage in which he smashed windows in a car belonging to a friend of his wife.

Monthly meeting and mixed social of the ex-Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers will be held Saturday, 8:30 p.m. at the Bay Street Armoury. Prospective new members can obtain further information by phoning Ray Wainwright at EV 4-8879 or Darrel Pringle at EV 3-8665.

Gordon R. Lee, reeve of Saanich and president of the Sourdough Club of Victoria, will be among those celebrating the 61st anniversary of the Klondike gold rush at a get-together in Santa Barbara Oct. 18 to 21.

"Alaska Today" and the "1962 Dawson Festival" will be convention themes.

Victor M. Nugent, 951 Green Street, was sentenced to 15 days in jail Wednesday for driving while his licence was suspended.

City prosecutor Angus Smith told Magistrate J. A. Byers that Nugent was convicted for a similar offence just over a year ago.

Rear-Admiral E. W. Finch-Noyes, flag officer, Pacific coast, returned to his office today after convalescing from an illness which will result in his retirement from the service.

He will turn over command to Rear-Admiral W. B. Landy, man at change of command ceremonies Oct. 31. Rear-Admiral Finch-Noyes will continue to live in Victoria.

Students at Gordon Head Junior High School are deliberately causing trouble for motorists, police have been told.

Saanich police are looking into complaints that the youths deliberately impede motorists on Gordon Head Road, near Arbutus, by walking five abreast.

A complainant said the students "defy" motorists. The incidents are reported to be of daily occurrence.

The rafters should ring to night at 8 in Prospect Lake School.

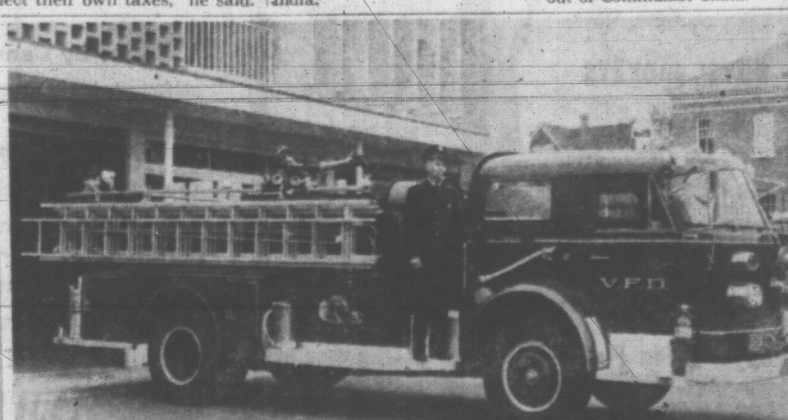

Saanich Reeve Stanley Murphy will debate the controversial amalgamation question with Coun. Joseph Casey. A referendum will be held on the issue in December.

The debate is sponsored by the Prospect Lake Community Association and will be chaired by the president of the group, Brian Hoole.

Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. George Pennekes were to attend a city council meeting today to see a film showing renovation of a downtown street in Norwich, England—not far from Mrs. Pennekes' native home.

The same film will be shown to the public tonight at 8:15 in city council chambers.

The Retired Employees' Association of Canadian Pacific Services will hold a meeting Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the Flamingo Room at the Crystal Garden.

READY TO GO is Victoria Fire Department's new pumper truck shown above after it arrived from Toronto. The powerful apparatus was driven from the east by VFD mechanic Robert McKean to break in the engine as well as save money on shipment. The new unit, first purchased since 1957, cost $29,000. (Times photo by Irving Strickland).

NO DEAL?

Bennett
Shrugs Off
Columbia

By FRANK RUTTER
Premier Bennett returned today from talks with New York financiers and exhibited an astonishing lack of interest in the Columbia River power project.
His attitude appeared to be a complete change of policy—and some observers fear it is an indication that the financial deal he was planning for the Columbia has collapsed.
He said he is not concerned how Columbia power is sold to the United States as long as the money pays for construction of dams and generators to produce "free power" in B.C.
He said he did not discuss the Columbia at all on his week-long New York visit.
He seemed more interested in the Peace River project.

WANTED BOTH

Up to now he has consistently demanded simultaneous development of both projects.
Technical experts on the Columbia from B.C. Hydro were away "somewhere" at the same time as Mr. Bennett. But the premier disclaimed any connection with their negotiations with U.S. power officials.
He told a press conference he and deputy finance minister G. S. Bryson went to New York for a "survey" of the money market.
"I didn't ask for any money," he said.
He found the market "extremely favorable" and said he could raise financing for the Peace project there if he wanted to, but would also sound out markets in Toronto and Montreal.
Mr. Bennett coupled his remarks with a detailed defence of B.C.'s economy.
He said there is no austerity in this province, and cited a long list of highway projects and ferry plans to support his claim.
The premier had been believed seeking two things on his U.S. trip: an agreement to purchase downstream benefits from the Columbia project for a price equal to 5 mills per

OTTAWA DUCKS
ANTI-FAG
CAMPAIGN

OTTAWA (UPI)—Any official anti-smoking campaign would have to be initiated by the provinces and not the federal government Health Minister Monteleith said today.
He told the Commons that while his department could assist any province in such a project, "We are in no position to initiate such agitation programs."
Monteleith made the statement when questioned by Barry Mather (NDP—New Westminster).

Rain Cancels Workouts

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A steady rain forced cancellation today of scheduled workouts of the New York Yankees and San Francisco Giants at Candlestick Park.
The two teams had been slated to stage workouts in preparation for the sixth game of the World Series Friday.

MONACO MUST MAKE TAX DEAL WITH FRANCE

No Lights, Water for Grace?

MONTE CARLO (UPI)—The tiny principality of Monaco has until midnight to make a new tax deal with French President Charles de Gaulle or face the prospect of being swallowed up by France.
Monaco is known the world over for its Princess Grace, its gambling casino, its sunny climate and its lack of income taxes.
The absence of income tax is what bothers de Gaulle. He has long suspected that Frenchmen and French firms have moved to Monaco to

FINAL

It's Official: Mahovich Deal Off

TORONTO (CP)—Stafford Smythe, president of Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, announced today that directors controlling the club have decided to turn down an offer by Chicago Black Hawks to buy Frank Mahovich for $1,000,000. (See earlier Page 10).

Canada Backed In World Fair Bid

PARIS (Reuters)—The Bureau of International Exhibitions' Subcommittees today unanimously approved Canada's application for the 1967 World's Fair to be held in Montreal.
The recommendation will be submitted to a full meeting of the 30-nation bureau for final approval when it meets in Paris Nov. 13, a communique said.

U.S. Congress Backs Berlin Stand

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate joined the House of Representatives today in voting to put the U.S. Congress firmly on record for any action, including military force, needed to uphold Western rights in Berlin.

Bonner Will Enforce Kent Injunction

Attorney-General Bonner today promised to enforce an injunction that would keep Sons of Freedom Doukhobors from Kent Municipality.
However, it has not been decided whether the job will be done by sheriffs or the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. (See Story Page 31).

Irish Draw Begins But Pot Smaller

DUBLIN, Ireland (CP)—Total receipts in the Irish sweepstakes on next Wednesday's Cambridgeshire race, in England totalled $4,631,000 ($13,893,000), it was announced today.
This is $1,500,000 down from last year, due largely to a big cut in United States sales. The draw started today.

John D. Pessimistic
On Problem of 'Sons'

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker expressed pessimism today about prospects for a final settlement of the problem created by the radical Sons of Freedom Sect of Doukhobors.
In reply to a Commons question by NDP House Leader H. W. Herridge, Mr. Diefenbaker said that so far as any part of the Freedomite problem is a federal responsibility, the government would give every consideration to bringing about a settlement.

COMMONS

Key Vote
Tonight

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons winds up the general throne speech debate tonight with a vote which the minority Conservative government apparently regards as the key test in determining whether it has the confidence of the House.
The vote will be taken at 10:45 p.m. EDT on a government motion for a formal thank-you address to Governor-General Vanier for delivering the throne speech at the opening of Parliament two weeks ago today.

The fact that the throne speech was written for Gen. Vanier by Prime Minister Diefenbaker and his cabinet makes the vote, in effect, an adoption of the legislative program in the speech at this session. Other items can be added later.
There is no formal Commons rule declaring what motions are of confidence or of non-confidence, but parliamentary precedents make any amendment to the motion for adoption of the address a non-confidence motion. The House has already defeated four of these sessions, including two proposed by the Liberal opposition.

Canada's Extremes

High—Toronto, 60
Low—Calgary, 27

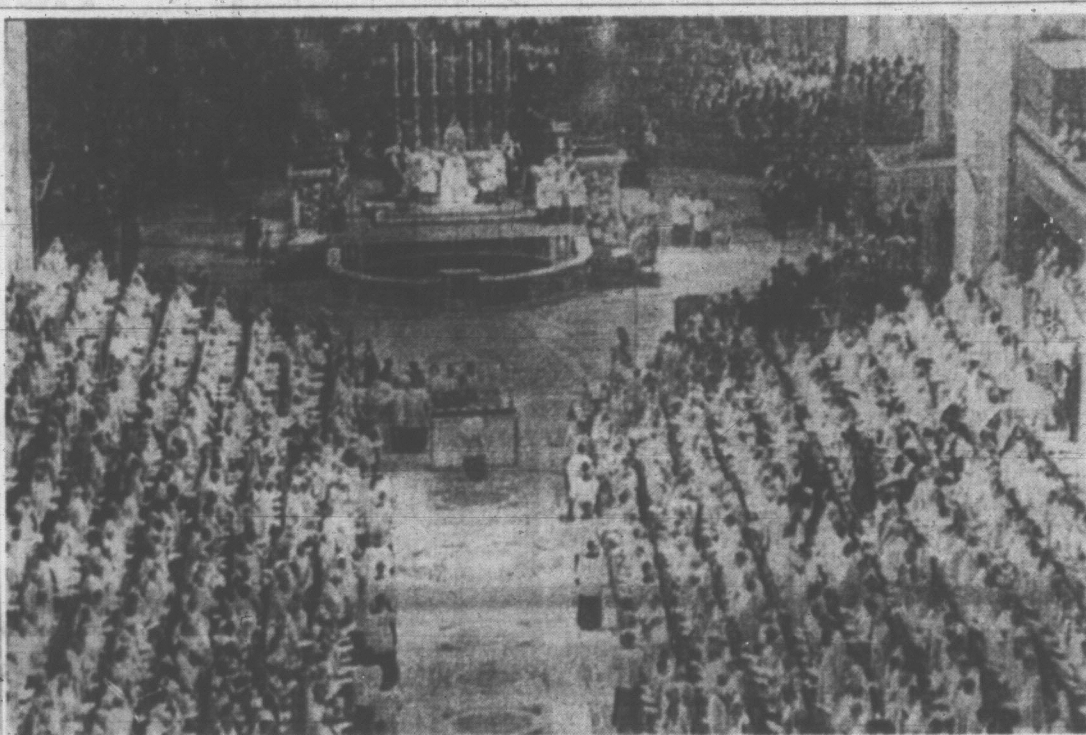

But he added that "on the basis of the experience of years, one might express the hope without much hope."
Mr. Herridge referred to a proposal Wednesday in the Senate by Senator David Croll (L—Ontario) that a 20-member Senate committee be set up to study the Freedomite problem. (See Page 5.)

Ransom
Payments
Scored

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sharp opposition developed in Congress today to any plan for the U.S. government to pay part of the ransom demanded by Fidel Castro for Cuban invasion prisoners.
Congressional sources said they understood that the United States was prepared to put up "lots of money" to help free the more than 1,000 Cubans captured in the abortive invasion last year.
These sources gave no estimate on exactly how much federal money might be used. Castro is demanding about $62 million for release of the prisoners.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., urged President Kennedy Wednesday to deny reports that federal funds would be involved. The state department and White House declined comment.
Rep. A. S. Herlong, D-Fla., wired the president that a taxpayers' ransom would be "repugnant" to our traditions.

CHARGE AFTER HIT-RUN DEATH

THIS IS VIEW of main nave of St. Peter's Basilica in Vatican City today during ceremony opening the Ecumenical Council today. Pope John stands in centre background before the special Council altar.

'Unity of Mankind' Stressed

By DANIEL F. GILMORE
VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope John XXIII, a portly, fatherly figure in white, today opened the 21st Ecumenical Council of the Roman Catholic Church that he said may pave the way for the "unity of mankind."
(See also Page 3)

With the scene and the 80-year-old pontiff's words broadcast through space by the Telstar satellite, the church in a four-hour and 38-minute ceremony began the task of attuning itself to the nuclear age.
From the great basilica of St. Peter's the Pope addressed his words to all peoples as well as to the 3,000 Roman Catholic leaders and about 50 observers from other Christian faiths assembled for the historic conclave.
Pope John spoke for 37 minutes after an inaugural mass and a magnificent procession of richly-garbed prelates which made its way through St. Peter's Square to the sound of pealing church bells and the cheers of more than 150,000 spectators.
"Long live the Pope," they cried in a multitude of languages.
The traditional Italian language cheer of "Viva il Papa" was repeated inside the basilica after the Pope's speech.
The Pope, who descended from his portable throne to enter and walk down the aisle of the ancient church converted into a modern council chamber with electronic novelties, was buoyant in the enthusiasm of opening the first-ecumenical council in almost a century.
Historically, it will be known as the second Vatican council, held on the site where the Roman emperor Nero once fed Christians to the lions. It is the largest council in history, with prelates present from 53 countries on the six continents, and the first to be attended by Protestant observers.
The Pope set the tone of optimism with his opening words: "Mother church rejoices."
For those of the non-Catholic observers who did not comprehend the ancient Latin tongue, Vatican interpreters murmured discreetly the translation in modern languages.
When he finished his address, Pope John gave his apostolic benediction, left his throne and mounted his portable throne. Then, to the applause of the cardinals, archbishops and other prelates, and the playing of a hymn on the great organ, he was carried out of the Basilica.
A few minutes after the ceremonies ended, the Pontiff appeared at the window of his apartment to impart his benediction to 8,000 persons in the square below—including many of the council fathers who had just left the Basilica.
The obviously pleased Pope waved his hands and said, "well, good afternoon." There was a murmur of amusement from the crowd.

Anglican Archbishop
Raises Touchy Issue

LONDON (AP)—The Archbishop of Canterbury expressed hope today that the Roman Catholic Church, at the Vatican ecumenical council, will take a fresh look at some of its policies, which he said offend other Christians.
The archbishop, Dr. Michael Ramsey, said in an interview in the weekly Catholic Herald: "A good example of this is the question of mixed marriages, where some of the procedures and demands are very painful to Anglicans."
"I am thinking, of course, of the invitation to the future husband or wife to abandon their Anglican faith, and the insistence that the children of the marriage must be brought up as Roman Catholics."
"Another thing that hurts us very much is the principle that converts to the Roman Church should be baptized again, albeit conditionally, as this is a reflection on Anglican baptism—which in fact, you recognize in theory."
The interview, with Catholic Herald assistant editor Hugh Kay, was the first ever given by a head of the Anglican Church to a Roman Catholic publication. The Herald is edited for Catholics by members of their own faith, but is not an official organ of the church.
Kay asked: "Could we not do more to get together in the way of joint social action, and joint public approaches to moral questions?"
"I think we most certainly could," Dr. Ramsey replied. "I would envisage consultations between Anglicans, Roman Catholics and the free churches in various localities to thrash out joint statements on what needs to be said imperatively in such matters. This would be very suitable at times when big national questions come up."

CUBA

Prisoner Talks
Delayed by Raid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cuban exiles in the United States are worried about the effects a reported rebel raid on Cuba may have on current negotiations for release of Cuban invasion prisoners.
The negotiations were reported Wednesday to have hit a snag. The talks, between Cuban Premier Castro and New York lawyer James Donovan, representing relatives of the prisoners, were to have ended Wednesday night, but further meetings will be needed to straighten out certain unspecified terms.
A communique in Miami from an exile group calling itself Alpha 66 said raiders attacked a camp of Cuban militiamen and Russian military men on Cuba's north shore shortly after midnight Monday and stayed ashore for nearly two hours.
"In the railroad yards of the city," the communique said, "a warehouse of military supplies and four other strategic points were destroyed, many weapons Continued on Page 14

'He Never Knew What Hit Him'

By DESMOND BILL
Ronald G. Wilson "never knew what hit him" when a car with headlights glaring "drove straight into him" at about 11:30 Wednesday night on Douglas Street near Larch.

The northbound car did not stop. It accelerated and turned east on Tolmie Avenue.

But within hours police arrested Robert J. Brotherton, 1577 McRae Avenue, an ex-provincial policeman, and charged him with impaired driving in connection with the fatality.

The accused man was remanded without plea until Monday, when he appeared in police court today. A new charge may be laid against him at that time.

NEVER STIRRED
The car hit Mr. Wilson, who lived at 568 Starling Lane off the Old West Road, with "tremendous impact," according to Russell Jeffs, 1875 St. Ann St., a friend of the dead man who had a narrow escape in the accident. "He never stirred once after he fell on the road."

The two men had just left Paul's Crown House at 3075 Douglas and were standing in the road about to get into their cars; parked one behind the other, when the accident occurred.

Said Mr. Jeffs: "I said good night to him. He was putting the key in his car door when I sensed this car coming at us."

"I looked back and saw the headlights. It seemed to be driving straight into us."

"It grazed me and drove straight into him. He never knew what hit him."

DEAD ON ARRIVAL
Mr. Wilson was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital in a police vehicle. He was pronounced dead on arrival.

The two men had met earlier in the evening at 89 Kinsmen Ave. and had been drinking.

Mr. Wilson had been a civilian instructor for four years. They were on their way home and had stopped for coffee and a talk over old times. Both served in the RAF.

Mr. Wilson, 45, was born in Dunfermline, Scotland, and served 12 years in the RAF, retiring in 1946 with the rank of squadron leader. He came to Canada that year and for the past eight years had been employed by Fairley Aviation.

Mr. Wilson is survived by his wife and two daughters, aged nine and five.

McCall Brothers have charge of funeral arrangements.

New Hospital For Cowichan 'Top Priority'

DUNCAN — An 11-member delegation from Cowichan District Hospital Association has been assured by Health Minister Eric Martin that delay in processing plans for the district's proposed $3,655,600 hospital was not caused by the current Canadian austerity program.

Administrative pressures experienced by BCHHS in recent months were given as the chief reason approval had not been forthcoming for a start on working drawings. These pressures, he said, were to a great extent the result of certain wage negotiations going to an arbitration board and its decision was delayed for several months. As a result it was impossible for hospitals to submit their operating budgets to BCHHS at the recognized time.

AGAINST POLICY

"It is not my policy, to hold up any needed project," said Mr. Martin. "Your hospital received approval in principle in 1952 and there has not yet been one withdrawal of such approval by the service."

"As far as I know," Mr. Martin remarked, "your hospital has top priority."

As soon as BCHHS has sanctioned pre-construction estimates of operating costs for the projected hospital, the minister said, he will recommend approval by treasury. He added that capital funds for it had moved forward from year to year.

Committee To Prepare Bus Rules

COURTENAY—A joint committee of school authorities, bus drivers and police will be formed here to improve school transportation safety.

Preliminary discussion between trustees, principals and drivers brought agreement a committee is needed to look into pupil behavior on buses and traffic hazards on highways.

Opinion was divided on pupils crossing roads before or after buses leave stopping points.

Drivers were critical of the present system of children crossing before buses drive away because too many cars are not stopping behind buses as the law requires, they said.

It was agreed school bus drivers should begin immediately taking licence numbers of cars that pass stopped buses.

PREPARE RULES

The new committee will be asked to draw up rules for behavior of children on buses and to define areas of responsibility for enforcement of safety by bus drivers, principals, trustees, and police.

Seven members will represent the four areas of responsibility and include the superintendent of schools and a member from the bus contracting company.

Investigation into school bus problems first began some weeks ago when police reported a car driver had complained a pop bottle was thrown from a bus ahead of him.

Bus drivers also have complained about noisy behavior, scuffling and breaking of bus windows on some routes.

Board chairman James Simon said investigation showed the complaints were isolated cases.

Night School Enrolment On Increase

COURTENAY — Enrolment in district night school classes has increased 50 per cent over last year and twice as many classes are being held, it was announced by the school board this week.

A total of 656 adults had signed up by the end of first week. Thirty-four classes are operating and four more start Monday, director Harry Harris said.

Most popular classes are ballroom dancing with 96 pupils, sewing with 93, math for parents, 75, and typing 56.

Many classes are filled to capacity but vacancies still occur in several others, he said. Scuba diving starts Nov. 13. Voice training, photography and lapidary will be offered if instructors can be found, Mr. Harris said.

THIS DAY IN VICTORIA - 1862

OCTOBER 11

Milk and water are becoming scarce. Milk prices have risen to seventy-five cents a gallon, it was announced today. Milk cows and water carts are needed to supply the population which has increased due to a large influx of immigrants.

Humboldt Street should be completed today. By blasting away the rock, travel should be much safer for vehicles in that part of town.

The sloop Hamly was overhauled by the government vessel Devastation near Fort Simpson. Reports received today indicate 400 gallons of whisky were thrown into the sea.

The new organ for Christ Church will be installed today in time for Sunday morning services.

British Shipowners Buck Cuba Sanctions

LONDON (UPI) — British shipowners decided unanimously today to oppose any restrictions on their trade with Cuba.

The council of shipping, which represents shipowners, met here to discuss reports that the United States government was planning new measures to penalize ships carrying Communist goods to Cuba.

A statement issued by the council said: "It is a matter of gravest concern to owners engaged in trade that they could be involved in sanctions."

The shipowners pointed out that some of their ships were engaged in long-term charter and they would oppose any moves to break the charter contracts.

The British insist that none of their ships is engaged in carrying arms or war materials to Cuba. British ships do, however, play a major part in carrying normal cargoes between Cuba and Communist ports.

and some flags of the enemy were captured. No fewer than 20 enemy were killed." A spokesman for Alpha 66 said some of the slain were Russians but did not say how many.

The spokesman said 15 to 25 men were in the attacking force that some were wounded, but that all got away.

In San Juan, Puerto Rico, Antonio Veciana, another spokesman for Alpha 66, said the "war trophies" would be exhibited in San Juan's baseball stadium Saturday.

Alpha 66 staged its first raid Sept. 10 with a night attack on a British freighter and two Cuban cargo vessels anchored off Cuba's northern coast.

In a broadcast from San Juan, Veciana said Alpha 66 is declaring war on all ships carrying supplies to Cuba. He told the American Broadcasting Company attacks would be made on all vessels, not just those from Iron Curtain countries.

Veciana also said Alpha 66 plans three more raids on Cuba before the end of October.

Chinese Reds Killed

TOKYO (UPI) — The Chinese communists today reported 33 Chinese soldiers have been killed or wounded in fighting with Indian forces in the disputed border regions between Tibet and India's northeast frontier.

A herd of 16 blue nilgai antelopes imported from India 20 years ago by a Texas ranch owner has grown to 3,000 animals.

MUSEUM ITEMS PASSED UP BY THIEVES

CAMPBELL RIVER — The local museum has many artistically and historically valuable articles on display but thieves don't think too much of them.

"We have had three break-ins during the past year," said curator Ed Meade, "but the people doing it couldn't find anything worth carrying away so nothing has been lost."

Licensing Bylaw Passed By Council

NANAIMO (CP) — A new commercial vehicle licensing bylaw has passed all three readings in council here.

It will place licensing of all commercial vehicles in the hands of the provincial government with repayment to the municipality on a per capita basis.

At present companies operating commercial vehicles pay licence fees in each municipality through which they operate.

Vehicles which carry commercial plates, such as farm vehicles, but which are not strictly for commercial carrying purposes will be required to get exemption plates.

The Motor Vehicle Act requires that the bylaw be passed by council prior to the end of November. This applies to all municipalities wishing to participate in the new method of uniform licence collection fees, set up at the last session of the legislature.
